Record Holiday Deaths

Some 523 Persons Perish in Traffic Accidents, Drownings And Other Mishaps

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Violent deaths over the three-day Memorial Day holiday period soared to a new record today.

At least 523 persons died in traffic accidents, drownings, and miscellaneous mishaps. This broke the previous record of 510 for a three-day Memorial Day holiday in 1952.

The traffic toll was at least 355, or 15 above the National Safety Council's pre-holiday estimate of 340 and near the record 363 in 1952. An additional 92 lost their lives in drownings, and 76 in miscellaneous accidents.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the Safety Council, said he was "disappointed" that the traffic toll exceeded estimates but he added: "Bad as the holiday death toll was, we believe it would have been even worse without the safety activity on state and local level resulting from the White House Conference on highway safety called by President Eisenhower in February."

The violent death total compared with 365 in the two-day holiday last year and the record Memorial Day total of 571 in a four-day period in 1950.

An Associated Press survey of violent deaths was taken from 6 p.m. May 14 to midnight May 17, the same time span as the Memorial Day holiday, and showed a total of 243 traffic deaths, 50 drownings and 66 miscellaneous deaths for a total of 359.

The toll by states — traffic, drownings and miscellaneous:

Alabama 9 8 1; Arizona 5 0 0; Arkansas 0 2 0; California 37 4 6; Colorado 3 0 2; Connecticut 5 1 1; Delaware 2 0 0; Florida 10 2 0; Georgia 7 0 0; Idaho 2 0 2; Illinois 31 3 6; Indiana 12 1 1;

Missouri Has Only 9 Traffic Fatalities On Holiday Weekend

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Missouri got through the long Memorial Day weekend with only nine traffic fatalities and Highway Patrol officials said today they were very encouraged at the showing.

Pettis County reported eight accidents over the Memorial Day weekend, but only two injuries and no fatalities. Neither of the two injuries were severe. Fifteen vehicles were damaged. These are reported in accident column of the Daily Record on page 4.

"I'm very well pleased," said Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, patrol superintendent.

"There was more travel on the highways than we've ever seen before. But we had everyone out and working on a round-the-clock basis—even the office men. It looks like one of the best records in the nation."

During the period from 5 p.m. Friday until midnight last night, the patrol logged 233 traffic accidents and 230 injuries. Last year, in a three-day Memorial Day weekend, Missouri had 14 traffic deaths.

Catch Up on Rain

With 2.88 inches of rain in the last week, May turned in a total of 6.09 inches for the largest amount of precipitation here in 21 months—since the August of the tornado at the fairgrounds.

The fall was 1.55 inches above normal for the month and ran precipitation totals for the year to 14.23 inches, just 1.26 inch below the normal of 15.49 for January through May.

Clearing late this afternoon. Fair and cooler tonight. Wednesday showers by afternoon or night. Low tonight in the 50s. High Wednesday in the 70s.

The temperature at 7 a. m. was 57; 63 at 1 p. m. and 64 at 2 p. m. Rainfall the past week: up to 7 a. m. Tuesday, May 26: .45; May 27: .17; May 28: .44; May 29: .63; May 30: .49—total, 2.88 inches.

One year ago today here high 82, low 67; two years ago 82, 50; three years ago 82, 71.

TORNADO DAMAGE IN OZARKS—The roofs and two walls of the dwelling at Fortview, Mo., in the Lake of the Ozarks region of Missouri, was blown down by the tornado that struck the area May 28. In the rear of the picture can be seen another home that was untouched by the storm. Household furnishings, even to the utensils on a table, were untouched by the pranking wind funnel that swooped down on the Lake of the Ozarks resort area. FLYING CABIN DID THIS—Harlan Smith, 509½ East Fifth, truck driver for the Sedalia Ice and Cold Storage Co., checks the shattered window of his truck while picking up another load of ice Tuesday morning. ## Sedalian's Truck Is Damaged By Flying Cabin in Tornado

A Sedalian is driving a truck today that bears many dents and crushed glass, but they didn't come from a traffic accident. The truck just didn't get out of the way of a flying cabin.

Harlan Smith, 23, of 509½ East Fifth, wasn't in the truck when the freak accident happened, but it was only because a tree got in his way.

Smith was unloading ice Friday afternoon from the back of his truck, owned by the Sedalia Ice and Cold Storage Co., 320 West Main, in front of a cabin at Fortview, a resort on an isolated peninsula east of Warsaw. The cabin was one of 14 summer homes out of 65, most of which were owned by Kansas Citizens, which escaped a swooping twister that hit about 1:30 p. m.

The young truck driver said he dashed into the cabin to get out of a downpour of rain that came suddenly, and shortly afterward

Ex-Sedalian's Son Has Close Race With Tornado's Funnel

Riley Kidwell who, with his wife, operates the grocery and tavern at Fortview, reported his son, Freddie, had a narrow escape while down on the Mitchell dock.

The youth saw the storm coming and began running toward home. Wind was sweeping debris all around him and he made a dive toward an ice truck of the Sedalia Ice Co., and saw something falling toward it and out until he reached his mother at the store.

The grocery-tavern was not damaged in the storm. Kidwell said he was working in Sedalia when the storm struck and was not aware of the tragedy until he reached Warsaw late in the evening. He then hurried to his home and with others began clearing debris.

"We were handicapped by the terrific traffic jam on Sunday when curious people came down the narrow farm road to see what had occurred," he said some people offered their help others were just lookers.

"The REA out of Bolivar lost no time in getting to our area and began working with their lines. They set new poles, strung new wire and had lights on by Saturday night. We around Fortview certainly appreciate their work."

"Sunday a collection was taken up by several of us for Oleen Davis, who has the rental cabins, boats, etc. He had little insurance to cover the loss of five of six cabins which were destroyed."

Soviet's Molotov Returns

Minister Flew Home Suddenly on Sunday, Presumably to Get Orders on Indochina

GENEVA, (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov returned to the Far Eastern conference today after a sudden, two-day trip back to Moscow for consultations.

Three transport planes brought Molotov and his party here. A bulletproof limousine whisked the Russian diplomatic chief to his villa immediately.

Molotov went home unexpectedly Sunday, telling several of the Western delegation chiefs he would return today.

Western observers assumed he had gone back to report to Soviet Premier Georgi M. Malenkov and his associates on the talks thus far, and to discuss the strategy the Soviets will pursue in the future negotiations on Indochina.

These sources believe the Communists now are debating whether to try to prolong the negotiations for an Indochina armistice in order to produce a replica of the two-year-long Korean military talks at Panmunjom, or whether to seek a halt as soon as possible to the fighting.

Aside from Molotov's return, the chief event anticipated at the conference today was a meeting of French and Vietnamese representatives called to arrange for the opening of military discussions on armistice terms later this week.

The nine-party conference on Indochina was in recess for a day after getting snarled yesterday over Communist proposals for a "neutral" commission to police any truce that may be achieved.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden arranged to see Red China's Chou En-lai tonight in an effort to find a compromise on the crucial issue of cease-fire supervision.

Continuing in his role as mediator, Eden invited the Chinese Communist Premier-Foreign Minister to dinner.

U.S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault called on Eden, apparently to discuss what he would say to Chou at tonight's meeting.

The U.S. delegation was understood to feel the question of supervision was one of the major issues to be resolved before a cease-fire can be arranged.

The French-Vietnamese meeting today was called to work out preliminary details of negotiations expected to begin Thursday — on the question of zones in which the rival forces would assemble if and when a cease-fire is effected.

Air Tour Ends At St. Louis With 40 Planes

ST. LOUIS (AP)—An annual Missouri air tour, which started at Sedalia Saturday and covered about 800 miles, ended here yesterday with about 40 planes with some 50 persons aboard landing at two airports.

There were about 75 planes in the tour but not all of them made the full circuit which included overnight stops at Sikeston and Joplin. The planes made a stop at Cape Girardeau yesterday before coming on to Meramec and Weiss airports here.

Bad weather delayed the take-off at Joplin Saturday, and scheduled stops at Seymour and Rolla were cancelled. Most of the planes also passed up a scheduled stop at Bismarck because of a heavy rain.

The tour was sponsored by the Missouri Pilots' Association; the Missouri Chapter of 99, an organization of women pilots; the St. Louis chapter of the National Aeronautics Association and the Missouri Flying Farmers.

Little League Gets Underway Tonight; Ceremonies at 6 P.M.

The Little League will open its season tonight, with the opening ceremonies at 6 o'clock and the first of two games of the night slated to start at 8:30 o'clock.

Scheduled for last night, the opening was postponed by rain, but the same program will be carried out this evening. The field is in good shape, officials of the league report.

All major league players are requested to be at the stadium, in uniform, at 5:45.

Calls Flexible Price Support Plan Sound

Benson Addresses Chamber of Commerce In St. Louis Today

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson today described the administration's proposed program of flexible farm price support as one "that will be sound for farmers in the short-run and in the long-run."

The present program of rigid supports "taxes the American people for abundance only to deny them the full benefits of abundance," he said in a speech prepared for a meeting of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce.

Benson said he will not heed the warning of some that the administration's program is poor politics. "There should be no room for narrow partisan prejudices in this question," he said. "We are dealing with something that affects the welfare of all farmers—of all business—of all working people—of all consumers."

The secretary said there is nothing new about flexible price supports and that they have been a part of the government's farm program for many years.

"Prior to the Second World War," he said, "we had flexible supports ranging between 32 and 75 per cent of parity. Even today we are supporting more commodities on a flexible basis than under the high right plan."

Sen. Flanders Says McCarthy Does Good Job for Commies

McCarthy Refuses to Give Committee Files by Schine

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy refused to turn over to the McCarthy-Army hearings committee today the complete files on which Pvt. G. David Schine had worked. He said he would not because they contain the names of confidential informants.

Roy M. Cohn, chief counsel for the McCarthy investigating subcommittee, had delivered the files a few moments earlier in a big cardboard box to Special Hearings Counsel Ray H. Jenkins.

The hearings committee had asked for documentary evidence of work performed by Schine for the subcommittee while on special passes from Army training.

A subpoena was issued last week directing Cohn to produce all material in the subcommittee files on which Schine had worked.

Sen. Mundt (R-S.D.), acting chairman, said he had issued the subpoena at the request of the Democratic subcommittee members. Later, however, Cohn said he would produce the material without any subpoena.

He told the subcommittee today, after two staff aides lugged the cardboard carton, that he was unable to say that it contained all the documents and papers on which Schine had worked. But he said it was all that staff members could get together over the Memorial Day weekend.

Some of the papers in the box, he said, carried the names of confidential informants, while others did not.

McCarthy spoke up to say he could not permit the hearings committee to take custody of the files, which contain the names of informants.

McCarthy insisted that he—not Cohn—had custody of the papers. McCarthy is chairman of the regular investigating subcommittee and Cohn is his chief counsel.

McCarthy said he would be glad to give the hearings subcommittee the requested papers, but only after he had time to go through them and make sure names of confidential informants had been deleted.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Roy M. Cohn today gave investigating senators a batch of papers he said reflected part of the McCarthy subcommittee work for the McCarthy subcommittee after he entered the Army.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Roy M. Cohn denied today he ever threatened to "wreck the Army" and bring about the dismissal of Secretary Robert T. Stevens if Pvt. G. David Schine was sent overseas.

"Ridiculous and untrue," Cohn said of this alleged testimony by Army Counselor John G. Adams.

Cohn, 27-year-old chief counsel for the McCarthy subcommittee, denied today that he ever asked that Schine be assigned to the New York area—disputing testimony of both Adams and Stevens.

In the course of a hammering cross-examination from special counsel Ray H. Jenkins, Cohn disclosed he had referred the name of Schine's regimental commander, Lt. Dix to the McCarthy staff for investigation.

He swore this action as to Lt. Col. Earl L. Ringler was not related, however, to any concern over Schine's treatment at Dix.

He said he took the action because he had been told Ringler was not in sympathy with the McCarthy subcommittee's work and had referred to it as "a witch hunt" and a "red herring."

Cohn's order for a check on Ringler was brought out during questioning of the McCarthy aide about an assertion from an Army witness that Cohn once said Ringler and Capt. Joseph Miller had been uncooperative where Schine was concerned and that he (Cohn) would not forget their names.

That testimony came from Lt. John Bruce Blount who said Cohn made the statement in objecting to a Sunday kitchen police assignment for Schine.

A little later Jenkins recalled testimony from Adams as to Cohn's reaction when informed Schine might be sent overseas.

Adams said Cohn threatened to wreck the Army and declared Stevens would be "through as secretary of the Army."

"I'm sure I did not make that statement," Cohn testified under oath, as had Adams.

Both statements attributed to him, Cohn said, are "ridiculous and untrue."

Further, Cohn added, "Mr. Adams or anybody else with any sense—and Mr. Adams has a lot of sense—would not believe he threatened to wreck the Army."

Cohn said he had checked the matter with Francis P. Carr, who also was present during the conversation between Adams and Schine, and Carr likewise does not recall Cohn making any such statements.

Carr is chief of staff of the McCarthy subcommittee. Charges against Carr have been dismissed, but he will be heard as a witness.

Adams' testimony had been that Cohn flew into a violent rage and made the threats when told that porch away from around them, sucked the cherries out of the pans and left the four sitting unharmed with the empty pans in their laps.

In Atchison County a tornado skipped over Tarkio, Mo., then slashed a 16-mile path, damaging five farms northwest of Burlington Junction.

Buildings were wrecked and damaged on the farms of Mrs. Durham Rankin, Donald Crabtree, Donald East, Lyman McIntire, Wilbur Long and Mrs. Laura Lyle.

Heavy rain and hail accompanied most of the storms.

A two-mile wide strip at Sabetha in northeast Kansas was battered by a severe hail storm. Roofs and windmills in the town were damaged heavily. Harlan Deaver estimated that 90 per cent of his wheat a mile east of Sabetha was damaged.

The next board meeting will be on June 14.

Asks Question Of Cohn-Schine Relationship

Says Senator's Ways Have Brought About Jewish 'Foreboding'

WASHINGTON June 1 (AP)—Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.), denouncing Sen. McCarthy in a floor speech, said today that if the Wisconsin Republican were "in the pay of the Communists, he could not have done a better job for them."

Best Way to Cure an Over Friendly Boss—Marry Him

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—What can the poor working girl do to protect herself against "the overfriendly boss?"

I thought this problem went out about the time "Bessie, the Sewing Machine Girl" was a big hit. But apparently it didn't, and now Congress may have to consider it in revising the Taft-Hartley Act.

An office worker, writing to Patricia Porter of the Boston Traveler, recently raised the question of "how to discourage the office boss from conveniently placing his hands on (a girl's) shoulders, arms or back while discussing business matters."

Admitting that it was a touchy subject and that often such gestures by the boss were completely friendly and an attempt to express their appreciation for work well done, the writer added, however, "The majority of girls are embarrassed and uncomfortable when it occurs... none enjoy it... (and) it results more often in strained employer-employee relationship than in a friendly business-like one."

At a drugstore counter where a number of girls from several offices crunched down their mailed milk lunches, I made an informal poll on what they thought about this problem of "the overfriendly boss."

Their reaction was mixed—and entirely feminine. Most of them said their own particular boss was more of a querulous old mouse than a wolf.

"It's the junior executives who act like office juvenile delinquents today," said one. "Every once in a while you meet one whose idea of exercise is to ask you to stay late and then chase you ten laps around the water cooler."

"My boss does pinch me every once in a while," said a plump young file clerk, blushing. "But he doesn't mean anything by it. He's the fatherly type. He says he just wants to be sure that I'm not getting undernourished."

"When my boss puts his arm around me," said a secretary. "He only does it after one of those four-martini, three-hour business luncheons, and he just wants something to lean on until he can reach his swivel chair. What the guy really needs some days, though, is artificial respiration."

"Heavens, I wish my boss—or anybody else—would put his arm around me," said a secretary. "After 25 years behind the same old typewriter, I've forgotten what it feels like."

"I wish my boss would thaw out more," admitted another stenographer. "After all if he were trying to put his arm around me, he'd shut up about what a lousy speller I am."

The girls went into a huddle when I asked them what was the best way to curb an employer who really did insist on getting overfriendly on company time.

"Every time he reached for you," suggested one, "just ask him for a raise. Boy, his arm will flop down as if you'd hit it with a crowbar."

"Well, in the old days I guess a working girl always kept a hap-pin handy," said a second. "If my boss bothered me, you know what I'd do? I'd sew half a dozen thumbtacks in the waist and shoulders of my dress—with the points sticking out. Imagine how he'd look after he pawed over three sharp thumbtacks."

The other girls laughed merrily at the mental picture of the boss winning his office purple heart the hard way. But they all agreed the cynical, middle-aged spinster secretary had an even better answer.

"The best way for a girl to cure an overfriendly boss is to marry him," she said, acidly. "That seems to cool any man down."

Firing Squad Turns To Fire Fighting

NORTH ANDOVER, Mass. (AP)—A National Guard firing squad performed a double duty at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery yesterday.

The men no sooner fired the traditional volley of shots at Memorial Day exercises when they spotted a fire in a nearby parked car.

They filled their helmets with sand and put out the blaze.

Cpl. Batchelor Signs As Non-Communist, Collects Back Pay

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—One of the U. S. soldiers who first refused repatriation while a prisoner of the Communists in Korea, has signed a non-Communist affidavit.

Cpl. Claude Batchelor, 22, of Kermit, Tex., signed the affidavit yesterday at Fort Sam Houston's post prison. It clears the way for him to collect about $4,000 in back pay.

Batchelor's civilian counsel, Joel Westbrook, said part of the money would be used in the corporal's defense. The rest, the lawyer said, will be used to bring Kyoto, Hatchelor's Japanese wife, to this country from Tokyo, where she is living with her family.

Batchelor is imprisoned while the Army investigates the possibility of court-martialing him on charges of collaborating with the enemy while a prisoner of war.

Miss Parker And Rev. Benz Exchange Vows

Miss Mildred Louise Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ole R. Parker, Chillicothe, became the bride of the Rev. Ervin Eugene Benz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Benz, Knob Noster, at three o'clock in the afternoon, May 23, at the Calvary Baptist Church in Chillicothe. The Rev. Elmer L. Gross performed the double ring ceremony before a setting of palms and candelabra holding tall white tapers, and an arrangement of pedestal baskets of pink and white gladioli.

Mrs. Joseph P. Shy, Chillicothe, at the solo, played a program of nuptial music and accompanied Mr. Reuben Wright, Sweet Springs, who sang, "Oh Promise Me," and "Through the Years."

At the close of the ceremony he sang "The Lord's Prayer." Preceding the ceremony, Miss Shirley Benz, sister of the groom, and Miss Joyce Parker, sister of the bride, lighted the candles. Both were attired in pink dimity ballerina length dresses. Their flowers were nosegays of pink and white daisies.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a sweeping floor length gown of carnation white Chantilly Lace over satin. The shrug bodice was fastened down the back with tiny covered buttons and was designed with long fitted sleeves and a low neckline, edged with sequins and seed pearls. The bouffant skirt was of nylon net, fashioned with lace panels. She carried a white orchid fastened to a white Bible. Her double fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tier of Chantilly lace sprinkled with sequins and seed pearls. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Miss Barbara Wood was maid of honor and wore a dress of pink dimity, ballerina length, designed with a round neck and puff sleeves. She carried a nosegay of pink and white carnations. Her headpiece was a ribbon bandeau of lilacs of the valley and pink roses.

Miss Joyce Fifer and Miss LeVerna Smotherman were bridesmaids and wore dresses identical to that of the maid of honor.

Mr. Samuel Creasy served as best man and ushers were Mr. Conrad Wright and Mr. David Pogue.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Parker chose a French blue dress with navy blue accessories. The mother of the groom was attired in a navy blue dress with white accessories. Both wore orchid corsages.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the educational building of the church. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and held a four tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. Pink rosebuds and fern encircled the cake. Crystal candelabra held white tapers and were on either side of an arrangement of pink roses. Serving were Miss Mary Ann Mason and Miss Lois Mason. Mrs. Dean Weddle was in charge of the guest book.

Following the reception, the couple left for a wedding trip in Southern Missouri. For traveling the bride wore a navy blue dress of orlon with white accessories.

The bride is a graduate of the Chillicothe High School and graduated in 1954 from Southwest Baptist College, Bolivar.

The groom graduated from Knob Noster High School and also from Southwest Baptist College in Bolivar. At present he is the pastor of the Good Hope Baptist Church in Clinton.

Both will attend William Jewell College this fall.

Those attending from Knob Noster were: Mr. and Mrs. Warren Benz and daughter, Shirley, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Anderson and daughter, Patty, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Francis, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Card and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Bolton. Other guests were, Mrs. T. B. Smart, Waxahachie, Tex., Miss Hazel Morgenstein, Sedalia, grandmother of the groom, and

BETTER SEEING IS BETTER LIVING

THE TRUTH ABOUT SUN GLASSES...

Is that, no matter how dark they may be, they may still fail to give your eyes vitally needed protection from damaging ultra violet rays, unless they have the proper optical qualities. They may even damage priceless eyes, by admitting more injurious rays than the pupil of your eye would do with no glasses.

Yes, you CAN sunburn your eyes—and that's simply another reason why you should never simply "buy" glasses, sunglasses, or others. Entrust priceless vision only to professional care.

Complete Optometric Service includes furnishing glasses... but only when needed.

NEW PEP... NEW LIFE NEW STRENGTH

For those who need a dietary supplement of calcium, iron, iodine or other minerals and vitamins.

Start today to protect yourself against deficiencies of calcium, iron, iodine, other minerals and vitamins which may be the cause of complicated illness or feeling achy, old and run-down.

C.I.V.

At last! A new geriatric product containing every known Mineral and Vitamin necessary in the daily diet.

12 MINERALS—12 VITAMINS
Plus 100% minimum daily requirements of Highly Essential CALCIUM

Here at last is the Complete Adult Vitamin and Mineral Dietary Supplement containing—

CALCIUM—so important to human health that if your diet is deficient in this element over a period of time you may find yourself: Feeling age too soon, failing to get restful sleep, easily out of breath, suffering from heart palpitation, momentary dizziness, nervous and irritable, with brittle teeth, ridges in nails, dermatitis of scalp and face.

C.I.V. Tablets supply the approximate amount of calcium you would get by drinking one quart of milk every day. They are so economical that 1 quart of milk alone will cost more than the daily intake of C.I.V. which furnish not only calcium but iron, iodine and vitamins in minimum daily adult requirements.

IRON—Rich, red blood—a requirement for vibrant, healthful living is provided by the iron in the human body in the form of hemoglobin to carry the oxygen to your lungs, to all the tissues of your body and pick up waste. It is necessary that red blood cells constantly be replaced.

C.I.V. Tablets supply the accepted daily minimum adult dietary requirements for iron.

IODINE—is recognized as necessary for proper functioning of the thyroid gland and as a catalyst for better assimilation of foods.

Daily dietary supplements of the following minerals are also included in the superb C.I.V. Formula.

COPPER — SELFUR — MANGANESE — FLUORINE — PHOSPHORUS — BIOTIN — RUTIN — CHOLINE — INOSITOL — ZINC

All of these elements supplied with consistent regularity go to make up the complete dietary supplement.

VITAMINS—A prolonged deficiency of vitamins leaves the system in a weakened condition. All necessary elements must be there before the full benefits of vitamins can be realized. That is why C.I.V. Tablets are made as a complete mineral-vitamin dietary supplement and include:

Vitamin A — Vitamin B1 — Vitamin B2 — Vitamin B6 — Vitamin B12 — Vitamin C — Vitamin D — Vitamin E — Vitamin K — Vitamin P — Vitamin U — Vitamin X — Vitamin Y — Vitamin Z

BETTER BE SURE THAN SICK
—Why take chances on sickness being brought on through a weakened condition resulting from a lack of the vital vitamins and minerals in your diet when you can be assured of adequate protection by taking C.I.V. Tablets regularly—at a cost of only a few cents per day.

Today order from your druggist—C.I.V. Tablets. Accept no substitute. With C.I.V. Tablets you are assured the full benefits of such guaranteed daily requirements as are established for calcium, iron, iodine, and vitamins. Give C.I.V. a fair trial. If you don't feel stronger, more alert, and even sleep better within 7 days, return the remaining tablets to C.I.V. Milwaukee, Wis., and obtain full refund.

Morality Down To Low Level, Baptist Says

ST. LOUIS (U.P.)—The Rev. Grady C. Cothen, Oklahoma City minister, says morality has fallen to a "frightening level" because nothing seems wrong any more.

The pastor of the Olive Baptist Church told a pastor's conference of the Southern Baptist Convention yesterday that "we live in an atmosphere that condones sin of all descriptions and actually seems to approve wrong if it is committed by persons of high estate."

About 25,000 persons are expected here for the Southern Baptist Convention which opens tomorrow and continues through Saturday. There are about 5,000 ministers attending the pre-convention pastors' conference and about 6,000 women here for pre-convention meetings of the Women's Missionary Union, an auxiliary group.

"There is little evidence in America of a general feeling of the sinfulness of sin," the Oklahoma pastor said.

"A contributing factor is that many psychologists — Freudians and behaviorists included — have tried to destroy man's sense of sin. Many psychologists, sociologists and modernist religionists have agreed that nothing is wrong with man but a slight social dislocation or personality maladjustment."

"This," he said, "suits the itching ears of man, who does not like to be told that he is sinful and displeasing to God. As a result, our nation marches to disaster, lacking a sense that sin is real."

Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas, in another speech at the pastors' conference, said:

"At no time has it been more difficult to grasp the message of Christianity and apply it to our daily lives. The first—and greatest—opportunity for us all today is to develop and practice, in our daily lives, a religion man can live by in the 20th Century."

The Texas governor, who is a Sunday School teacher in the First Baptist Church of Austin, Tex., said on a recent visit to Korea he learned the American GI—not the power of American weapons nor the strength of our combined forces—made the greatest impact upon Korean people.

Hennings Says US III Prepared To Deal With Reds

ST. LOUIS (U.P.)—Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo.) says America is ill-prepared to deal with the Communist menace because of an atmosphere of fear, suspicion, distrust and hysteria in this country.

Hennings, in a Memorial Day speech at Soldiers' Memorial yesterday, said the Communist menace threatens to enslave the free world "but this atmosphere leaves us ill-prepared to deal with a tyrant and absolutism more deadly than any of the evils of the slavery we knew in this country."

The senior Missouri senator said it is quite clear that "we cannot force unity on our friends in Europe as we attempted to do with the French in our efforts to get them to join the European Defense Community. Nor can we buy unity," he said.

"Only through patient negotiation, through common understanding based on mutual respect, can we obtain unity with our allies."

Hennings added:

"If the Western powers had, in the past, treated the peoples of Asia and Africa with greater respect and dignity and had dealt with them on the basis of greater equality the Communists would have found few adherents there and would have made little progress."

Mrs. Neumann Dies In Auto Accident

Mrs. Cecilia Neumann, 45, wife of Walter Neumann, who was a shopman for the Missouri Pacific in Sedalia prior to 1923, when he left for Chicago, was killed in an automobile accident at 3 a. m. Saturday while she and her husband were on their way to Three Lakes, Wis. On the trip from Oak Lawn, Ill., they were to have visited her mother and were within 50 miles of her home when she met death.

The accident occurred near Antigo, Wis., and Mrs. Neumann was taken to a hospital there seriously injured, having a fractured leg and punctured lung. Mrs. Neumann's body was taken to an Antigo mortuary and will be brought to the Gillespie Funeral Home here for a service, arrangements for which are incomplete.

Her brother, Robert Neuman, Sedalia, left Tuesday morning for Antigo to be with Walter.

Mrs. Neuman was a sister-in-law of Mrs. A. O. Griskat, 701 South Engineer.

Kidnap Suspected; 13 State Alarm Out

NEW YORK (U.P.)—A 13-state kidnapping alarm was sent out today on a Florida man's report that a 6-year-old girl entrusted to his care had vanished from his truck parked on the lower Manhattan waterfront.

The missing child is Jane Marie "Jennie" Hoffman.

A police canvass of the waterfront area turned up the information that a 200-pound woman known only as "Tony" had been seen with a child whose description fitted that of the missing youngster.

The brown-haired, brown-eyed girl was reported missing by Walter Howard Hicks Jr. of Tampa, Fla.

He told police the girl had been placed in his care by her mother, Mrs. Blanche Whited, and showed them a letter she purportedly wrote stating her willingness to have him adopt her daughter.

Accidents

Lightning struck the State Patrol radio station at Lee's Summit, Monday afternoon, causing it to have a disruption in transmitting messages for a short time. Sedalia Police endeavored to get through to notify the patrol of an accident at Highway 65-52, and with unsuccessful a patrol car was dispatched out to Highway 50 and 65 Junction, then to the Main Street Junction to contact Trooper Earl Gregory.

Enroute out, the State Patrol car was headed east and the police car, driven by Sgt. Cecil Smith, having its red warning light blinking, slowed down to give Trooper Gregory the message. Sgt. Smith started to turn around when a car driven by Majorie Cox, Clifton, Kan., skidded into the left rear door of the police car, doing slight damage. The door on the police car was bent and the right front of the car driven by Mrs. Cox was damaged.

None of the occupants of the two vehicles was injured.

Slight damage resulted to two automobiles which were in collision in the 1500 block on West Main at 9:58 p. m. Tuesday. Cars involved were a 1954 Plymouth station wagon, driven by Harry Barnett, Higginsville, who was going west, and a 1947 Chevrolet truck driven by Jerry Kuhn, 318 North Prospect, also going west and making a left turn.

The right front end of the station wagon and the left side of the truck were damaged.

Mrs. Juanita Cochran, 51, Springfield, Ill., and her daughter Arlanthe Cochran, 14, received minor hurts about 2:15 a. m. Sunday. The car in which they were riding with Mrs. Cochran's sons, William David, 28, and Walter, 23, went off the road near the top of the Heath Creek hill.

The car, a 1942 Ford sedan, was headed south on the highway, driven William David Cochran. Cochran said he came upon the curve suddenly and there was no warning sign. He said he was driving about 50 miles an hour and the car left the right side of the highway and, swinging back, went across the highway and crashed into trees on the left side of the road. The car went down the embankment, peeled the bark off one tree and went about ten feet and lodged between three trees.

A passing motorist brought Mrs. Cochran and her daughter to Sedalia to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gravitt, 316 West Henry. They were taken to the office of Dr. A. R. Maddox, who rendered treatment.

The car was towed to Sedalia by the Chamberlin wrecker.

Damage resulted to two motor cars which were in collision at Main and Quincy about 1:40 a. m. Sunday.

A 1942 Chevrolet sedan, driven by Gerald J. McCulloch, Sedalia Air Force Base, and a 1948 Hudson sedan, driven by Mrs. Gilbert H. Rayburn, Poplar Bluff, collided. The Chevrolet was headed east and the Hudson was headed west. The cars sideswiped.

The left front fender on the Chevrolet and the left front fender and left front door on the Hudson were damaged.

No injuries resulted in a collision at Seventh and Kentucky about 9:45 a. m. Sunday. A 1949 Ford touring sedan, driven by John W. Gottschalk, 507 West Seventh, and a 1953 Chevrolet touring sedan, driven by Campbell C. Brandes, Kansas City, collided.

The Ford was headed east and the Chevrolet was going south. The left front fender, door and rear left fender on the Ford were damaged and the right front end of the Chevrolet was damaged.

Presbyterians Vote Merger

By GLEN MCCULLOUGH

MONTREAL, N.C. (U.P.)—The 94th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States (Southern) yesterday voted to join with the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. and the United Presbyterian Church.

The Broadway Presbyterian Church of Sedalia is affiliated with the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. Assemblies of the two Northern branches had voted for union last week.

The move for union of 3 1/2 million presbyterians was started by the Southern Presbyterians and represented 16 years of planning. Plan after plan had been submitted and rejected.

The General Assembly might well become the most outstanding in Presbyterian history. Only last Saturday it landed a blow at Jim Crowism and asked its churches to let down racial bars.

It thus became the first major denomination to endorse with action the recent decision of the U.S. Supreme Court on segregation. Before either action becomes effective, it must have approval at the presbytery level.

The desegregation matter is left up to individual churches and the union plan needs the approval of three-fourths of the 84 presbyteries in the 16-state section. In the other two branches it requires two-thirds approval.

Heroine Back To Paris

PARIS (U.P.)—Lt. Genevieve de Galard Terrance, the heroine of Dien Bien Phu, returned smiling today to her native France.

"I am happy to be home and I am happy to see my mother," she said, speaking into a battery of radio and television microphones.

About 100 newsmen were on hand as the 29-year-old nurse stepped briskly from the Air France plane that bore her home from Indochina, but a police detail kept them from questioning her.

Motor Co., Fifth and Kentucky, was found open by the police who were checking downtown business houses. A check was made and nothing appeared to be missing, according to Cal Rodgers, owner.

A black purse was found downtown in Sedalia Saturday by a resident of Warsaw and it contained considerable money. If the loser will contact State Trooper Pete Stohr and identify same, it can be obtained.

The front door to the Shell Service Station, Main and Missouri, was found open by the police early Sunday morning. The door was locked and a note left for the operator.

Mrs. W. E. Canless, 300 East Morgan, reported to the police the loss of six setting hens, stolen by a dog or some kind of animal. The animal gained entrance through a hole in the chicken house, used by the chickens, then dragged them out and down the alley. Police made an investigation but lost the trail in wet grass some distance from the building.

Jerry Hamby, 1523 South Prospect, reports his Hawthorne bicycle stolen sometime Monday night from 1706 South Quincy.

Heavy wind which blew Monday night broke off two large tree limbs: one hit the 600 block on West Third, in front of the home of Donald R. Anderson, the other in the 600 block on South Kentucky.

Police Court

Monday Morning

Ernest H. Martin, 922 East Sixth, forfeited a $2 cash bond for parking his car in the alley near Second and Lafayette.

Ben Womble, 1314 South Harrison, forfeited a $5 cash bond for parking his car in a restricted zone, too near a fire plug, at Sixth and Osage.

James Orville Tindie, 1715 East Fourth, arrested Wednesday, May 26, for speeding in the 600 block on East Broadway, forfeited a $15 cash bond.

Jewell Dean Fisher, Kansas City, charged with assault on George Dye, route 1, Smithton, while at the Green Pastures on April 10, was fined $25 by Judge R. L. Weinrich. Fisher pleaded innocent to the charge.

Eight overtime parkers who failed to appear in court forfeited their cash bonds of $1 each.

Tuesday Morning

Home D. Witt, 33, Beaman, arrested by the State Patrol on a charge of driving a car while intoxicated, appeared before Judge R. L. Weinrich and was fined $75. He pleaded guilty.

Paul Henry Nichols, 39, 1020 East 13th, arrested by the State Highway Patrol on a charge of driving a car while intoxicated, appeared before Judge R. L. Weinrich and was fined $75. He pleaded guilty.

Willie Darnstedt, 487th Bomb Squadron, Sedalia Air Force Base, reported to the police his table model radio was stolen from his barracks sometime Friday.

Make-It-Yourself From Wool

Contest Is Underway Today

The "Make It Yourself From Wool" district elimination contest, for the Clinton-Sedalia District, is being held today at the First Methodist Church with Mrs. A. C. Runge, Hughesville, district director in charge.

The American Business Women's Association is sponsoring the contest and in the way of entertainment took the girls on a tour of the city this morning and had them as guests at a luncheon this afternoon.

The luncheon honoring the girls was served in the church basement with 46 mothers and friends of the girls and members of the ABW attending. Tables were attractive with arrangements of yellow flowers carrying out the color scheme of yellow used for the banquet. Favors were small baskets of mints.

A musical program was presented by Mrs. T. E. Gasperson.

Mrs. Mary Maddox, president of the ABWA, and members of the organization, were working from the very start, registering the girls as they came in and seeing to it they were having a good time.

The style show, with girls modeling the dresses, suits and dresses they had made, started at 2 p. m., in the lecture room of the church which was decorated with large baskets of flowers for the occasion. Gifts from the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce will be presented to all the girls at the close of the contest and gifts from the Sedalia American Business Women's Association will be presented to the winners in both the senior and junior classes.

It was a trying time for some of the girls Tuesday morning when they arrived at the church to find that they were required to do a little more than make a garment out of wool. They also had to write a short essay on what they made and why they made it. Many of the girls did not notice the requirements of the essay.

Christine Silsby, route 4, was real pleased with herself because she knew she had to have an essay and had hers, but she had a little advantage. Her sister was in the contest last year.

"Why," said Christine, "It was on the entry blank in real black letters" but she admitted she hadn't read that real black print enough to know until the very last that the essay should be typed.

Mary Swartz, Smithton, Carolyn Simmons, Pleasant Hill, Elaine Van Natta, route 3, and Anne Lynch, Sweet Springs, were all struggling with their essays, while Christine and Laura Lee Meredith, route 4, looked on.

There were mothers there, too, and this contest has been something for the mothers, as well as the girls.

"I have been sweating blood," said Mrs. Paul Houston, 1601 West 14th, "For fear Charlotte wouldn't get her suit and dress done in time."

Truck Damaged

The air struck the cab as it flew by. Smith said the trees were so large that they had to be cut away from the truck.

Before the storm, the truck had been parked between the trees. One fell into the back end and filled it up. The other fell against the side but did not damage the side since it was held up by the branches of the first tree. Neither tree caused damage to the truck.

The cabin, however, hit the top front corner of the cab's right side, smashing it in, bending the right door and breaking the window, denting the right fender and the roof of the hood on the right side. It tore out the windshield altogether and twisted the rear-view mirror on the right side after shattering the glass.

The force of the wind was shown by a piece of one of the cabin's shingles driven between two slats on the right side of the truck's back. Several other, smaller wood chips were jammed between the slats, too.

After the truck had been cleared of branches, Smith said, it was necessary to clear away some cabins blown off their sites in order to drive the truck 150 feet back to the highway. The running condition of the truck was not hampered, he said.

Clean-up of the once beautiful resort continues, aided by bulldozers. Sixteen boat docks were missing after the storm, and one man reported seeing a 16-foot outboard motor being picked up in the air and disappearing. It was not immediately determined whether this tornado was the same one that upset an excursion boat farther east on the big lake, causing several persons to drown.

Smith said this is not the first time he has had a brush with a tornado. Last year he was five miles from Wichita when a huge twister drove a path of destruction through that city.

President Ike Deplores Division In US On How to Fight Communism

Calls for More Knowledge, Less Prejudice and Passion

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower last night deplored division within America on how to fight communism. He called for "more knowledge and intellect and less prejudice and passion."

A "crusade of truth" is needed both at home and abroad, he told a dinner highlighting the 200th anniversary of the founding of Columbia University.

"Through knowledge and understanding," he said, "we will drive from the temple of freedom all who seek to establish over us thought control—whether they be agents of a foreign state or demagogues thirsting for personal power and public notice."

The President mentioned no names in denouncing "would-be censors and regulators" and those who "divert our attention from the main battle" in opposing communism—an over-all goal on which he said Americans are united above all others.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty was asked whether the President had referred in the speech to Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), with whom the administration has differed sharply in recent weeks.

"I am not going to try to interpret the President's remarks," Hagerty answered.

McCarthy could not be reached for comment.

The speech was a major statement of the President's views on how communism should be combated. His voice grew thick with emotion when he referred to "demagogues" and "division." Those parts of his speech were thunderously applauded by his listeners.

The nationally televised speech was heard by some 1,800 alumni, faculty members and friends of Columbia University who jammed the ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel and another 400 who overflowed into an adjoining dining room. A score of college presidents were in the audience.

It was a homecoming of sorts for Eisenhower, who was Columbia president from 1948 until shortly before his inauguration last year. Applause interrupted the 30-minute speech 21 times.

After stating that America is completely united in opposing communism, the President added: "Yet, my friends, and I say this sadly, is there any other subject that seems, at this moment, to be the cause of so much division among us?"

In addition to criticizing those who cause "division," the President attacked "doubters" who "begin to fear other people's ideas" and "begin to talk about censoring the sources and the communication of ideas."

"The honest men and women

among these would-be censors and regulators may merely forget that the price of their success would be the destruction of that way of life they want to preserve," he said.

"But the dishonest and the disloyal among them know exactly what they are attempting to do—perverting and undermining a free society while falsely swearing allegiance to it."

He cautioned against allowing "ourselves to be persuaded that every individual—or party—that takes issue with our convictions is necessarily wicked or treasonous."

When that happens, he said, "then indeed we are approaching the end of freedom's road."

He also warned against confusing "honest dissent with disloyal subversion," noting that "we are descended in blood and spirit from revolutionaries and rebels—men and women who dared to dissent from accepted doctrine."

Turning to global matters, the President said America is committed to two far-reaching policies: "First and foremost, we are dedicated to the building of a cooperative peace, based upon truth, justice and fairness."

"Second: to pursue this effectively, we seek the strengthening of America—and her friends—in love of liberty, in knowledge and comprehension, in a dependable prosperity widely shared, and in a military posture adequate for security."

In such policies, he said, "there is no iota of aggression, no intent to exploit others or deny them their rightful place and space in the world."

He said his administration knows that "every negotiation with the Communists would be fraught with traps and pitfalls." But he said, "Positive, determined day-to-day toil would pay real dividends among free nations."

Brazil Plane Crashes, 19 Are Believed Dead

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Parachute rescue teams sped today to a mountainside 210 miles northwest of Rio where 19 Brazilians were believed to have perished in the fiery crash of a National Airlines plane.

Meridional News Agency said the plane, carrying four crewmen and 15 passengers, crashed and burned yesterday on Cerro Cipo Mountain, 60 miles from Belo Horizonte.

Mrs. Martha Fuller Dies at Princeton

PRINCETON (AP)—Mrs. Martha E. Fuller, widow of the late Justice E. Fuller, banker and lumberman, died today at the age of 85. She is survived by two sons and three daughters, including Mrs. Laurence M. Hyde, wife of a Missouri Supreme Court judge.

HERMAN'S MAIFEST, annually held in May, is one of Missouri's biggest home town celebrations. At this year's event George Oelschlaeger family took two awards in the costume event. ### St. Joseph Woman Hurt In Collision

MOBERLY, Mo. (AP)—A St. Joseph woman was injured today in the collision of an automobile and a Wabash freight train three miles west of Moberly.

Attendants at a Moberly hospital said Joyce Bishop was admitted with injuries which are not believed to be serious. The hospital said her aunt, Mrs. Albert Null of St. Joseph, who also was in the car, was not injured. Railroad officials said the car was demolished.

Nation Watches S. D. Primary Vote for Sign On Support Trend

PIERRE, S. D. (AP)—The nation watched the South Dakota primary election today for possible clues as to how the farm belt feels about flexible price supports, as advocated by the Republican administration.

Both Democratic candidates for governor, that party's only statewide contest, have injected national issues into their campaigns by accusing the GOP of backing "unsatisfactory farm legislation."

Democratic leaders, laying stress on the rigid 90 per cent parity payments now being made as opposed to the flexible program, also have been striving for a larger than usual vote as a "signal of protests" to Washington.

Party chiefs expected a turnout of some 35,000 Democrats for the primary, about 15,000 more than two years ago.

E. F. McKellips, Alcester banker, was favored for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination over Ed. C. Martin of Chamberlain, a GOP entry. Joe Foss, Sioux Falls car dealer and Medal of Honor winner for having shot down 26 enemy planes in World War II.

Cop Uses Psychology To Trick Woman From Suicide Leap

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Quick thinking and a dash of elementary psychology by a Scranton police officer was instrumental in averting what might have been a leap from a mid-city rooftop yesterday.

While a hastily summoned squad of police raced to the fourth floor roof of the Prezioso Building, Mrs. Mayme Orr, 30, climbed the parapet and stood poised atop the cornice.

Down in the street, Sgt. Earl Kugler, who knew the woman, sensed the situation and called out in a gruff voice:

"Get back there, Mayme, or I'll call the wagon!"

Startled, the woman retreated from the ledge and into the waiting arms of several police officers. Police said the woman gave no explanation for the action.

Says McCarthy Gives Anarchy Invitation By Call to Employees

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Sen. Duff (R-Pa.) says Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) has issued "an invitation to anarchy" in calling for federal employees to provide him with information about alleged subversion in the government.

And Duff said he would "unqualifiedly" vote to censure the Wisconsin senator, because he thinks the senator has challenged the integrity of the Senate itself.

Appearing on a television interview, Duff said the current hearings involving the disputes between McCarthy and the army have changed into a contest between McCarthy and the President.

He said now is the time for the Senate to "step into the picture by passing rules and examining cases where legislative committees have got out of hand."

Mrs. Ingle Named To Head Deaf School

FULTON, Mo. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Hughes Ingle has been named acting superintendent of the Missouri School for the Deaf here.

Mrs. Ingle is the widow of Truman L. Ingle, head of the school more than 20 years. He died last week while vacationing at Hayward, Wis.

The appointment was announced yesterday by John O. Newberry, president of the school's Board of Advisers. He said an acting superintendent was named so that the board could have chance to look over applicants for the permanent appointment.

Mrs. Ingle has served as principal of the primary department at M.S.D.

Memorial Day Solves Problem in Protocol For Waldorf-Astoria

NEW YORK (AP)—Memorial Day solved a protocol problem for the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel yesterday.

In residence there were President Eisenhower, here to deliver a speech; Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia; Prime Minister Adnan Menderes of Turkey; Maj. Gen. Fermin Gutierrez de Sota, Spanish deputy chief of state; and Rear Adm. Anibal O. Olivieri, Argentina's secretary of the Navy.

The hotel usually honors a guest of such rank by flying their nation's flags. But this time there weren't enough flagpoles.

After a look at the calendar, the hotel's general manager, Harold K. Hastings, declared the United States flag should fly alone.

On Memorial Day, he said, "you fly but one flag."

Hawaii Volcano Erupts for Spectators

HONOLULU (AP)—Hawaii's huge Kilauea crater spewed an estimated 10 million cubic yards of fiery lava into the air in its most spectacular eruption of the century yesterday.

As it cooled the estimated 10 million cubic yards of lava formed a saw-toothed ridge across the crater floor 25 feet high.

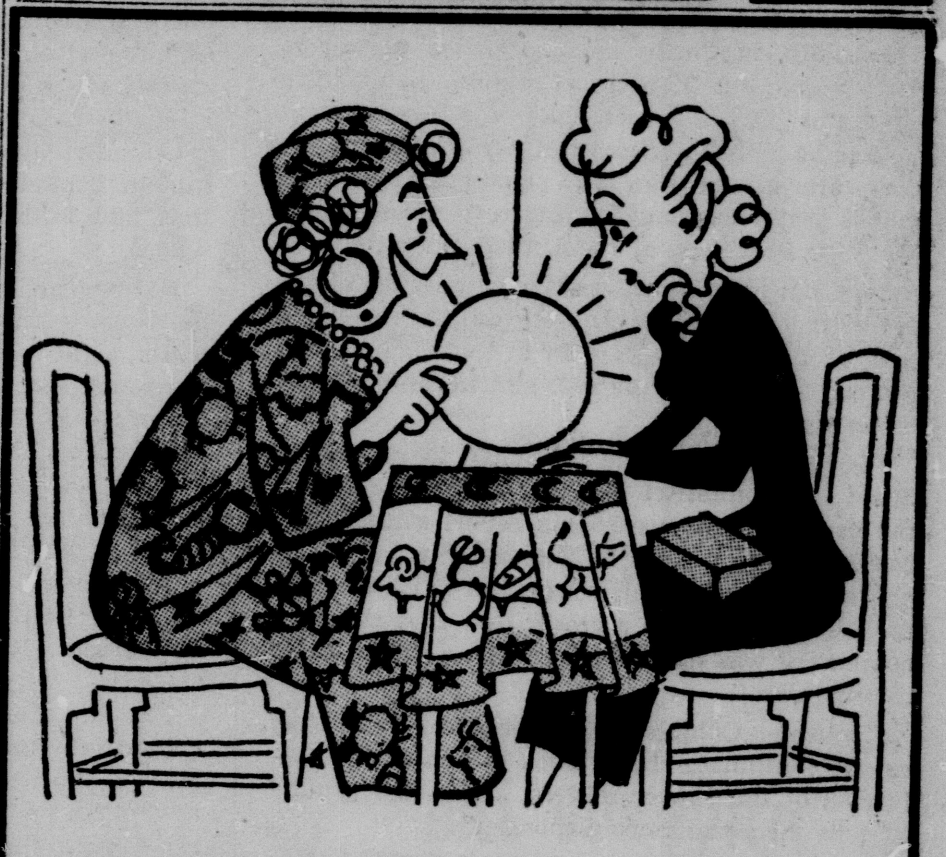

The eruption was safely contained within the huge crater, sided by noon.

A wall of flaming lava that shot out in fountains from a half-mile fissure on the crater floor had subsided yesterday.

Merry-Go-Round Pistol-Packing Senator Mystifies Solons

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The senators who meticulously plowed through Senator McCarthy's weird financial setup two years ago today are mystified.

First they are mystified that McCarthy has got himself in the position of testifying under oath; second about the shoulder holster which the Senator wears on the floor of the senate.

This is the first time in recent history that a U. S. Senator has appeared in the Senate packing a gun.

Actually, McCarthy has no police permit to carry a gun, but District of Columbia police have chosen to ignore the fact. They find it convenient to assume he has a Wisconsin permit. Meanwhile they are giving him two bodyguards, which makes pistol-packing Joe better protected than the Vice President of the United States.

Sensors hope, however, that Joe will not get vindictive on the senate floor as he was when they probed his finances; for at that time he was not only bitter, but ducked, stalled, and refused to testify.

"Senator McCarthy was invited to attend the Senate subcommittee hearings on six occasions," the final, unanimous Senate report stated. "For reasons known only to Senator McCarthy, he chose not to accept this course but to charge that the allegations were a smear and that the subcommittee was dishonest and doing the work of Communists."

"Between October 1951 and April 1952," the report continued, "he refused to honor the invitations of the subcommittee . . . on the ground that its members were dishonest."

When witnesses have refused to testify before his subcommittee McCarthy has denounced them, sometimes calling them "Fifth Amendment Communists."

Joe Rebuffed

The Senate committee which probed McCarthy did not denounce him. Instead Senator Carl Hayden, chairman of the Rules Committee and one of the oldest and most respected members of the Senate, went before the entire Senate and asked for a vote of confidence in the committee's honesty and its proper jurisdiction over the McCarthy probe.

The Senate voted unanimously and overwhelmingly, 60 to 0, to support the committee's probe of their colleague's finances.

Despite this, McCarthy refused to appear before the committee to answer a single question. Senator Benton of Connecticut did appear and testified fully. But McCarthy continued to duck, alibi, and malign his fellow senators.

When you look over the official reports of his finances you can understand why.

Previous columns have already reported how McCarthy's siphoned $10,000 out of money advanced him to fight communism and used it to speculate on the soybean market; also how he paid his own income tax and other personal matters from the bank account in which anti-communist funds were deposited.

Here is the further record of how McCarthy, once $170,029.03 in debt, got out of trouble with his bank.

A $10,000 Expert

One of Joe's first committee assignments when he came to Washington was on the banking and currency committee where he became vice chairman of a subcommittee on housing. In this capacity he could influence housing contracts and government loans through the power of Senate investigations.

And after getting Federal Housing Administrator Foley to help him prepare a brief and sketchy article on housing he tried to sell it—without success. Various publishers refused to buy.

This was in March and April 1948. During that year Joe was getting persistent demands from his bank in Appleton, Wis. They increased in October. In October also, the Lustron Corporation which had been selling pre-fab houses to the government under a $50,000,000 RFC loan, was slated for Senate investigation. Senator McCarthy was a member of the investigating committee.

"McCarthy approached Strandlund (president of Lustron) during October of 1948," the unanimous report states, "setting a price of $10,000 for his housing manuscript which was not in publishable form."

"Strandlund agreed to it," continued the Senate committee, "without any prior consultation with his public relations or executive staff, or notification to the RFC, and at a time when Lustron had not completed its machinery and tooling operation."

No wonder the Senate committee asked: "How can Senator McCarthy justify acceptance of a $10,000 fee from Lustron, which in effect was a fee paid out of public funds?"

"Did Senator McCarthy," the committee also asked, "take advantage of Lustron's sensitive position and its need for continued government financing to induce its president to pay a fee, set by him at $10,000 for a manuscript which was neither finished nor in publishable form?"

Pepsi-Cola Lover

The Senate committee also challenged McCarthy's love for Pepsi-Cola and a bill he introduced in Congress to end wartime rationing at a time when Pepsi-Cola demanded the end of rationing.

Following this, Russell Arundel, a local representative of Pepsi-Cola, went on McCarthy's note for $20,000.

This caused the Senate committee to ask in its final report: "Was there any relationship between Arundel's endorsement of McCarthy's $20,000 note and McCarthy's special appearance to interrogate the Army Secretary on Dec. 9, 1947, before the committee on appropriations regarding the Army's purchase of sugar, which purchase previously had been criticized by Pepsi-Cola?"

McCarthy's note for $20,000 had been endorsed by Pepsi-Cola's representative on Dec. 8. His cross-examination of the Army Secretary for Pepsi-Cola occurred on Dec. 9.

These are some of the unexplained facts and unanswered questions raised by the Senate committee which probed Senator McCarthy more than two years ago, and about which Attorney General Brownell has done nothing whatsoever—except authorize a public statement white-washing McCarthy.

Red Actions Always Manage To Cement Western Alliance

By Bruce Blossat

We in America seek the sanction of the moral law in our relations with each other and with other nations. Our Constitution, our national ideals, our whole way of life, these are rooted in a deep sense of morality.

Because that is so, we can never shut the door on the idea of negotiating with foreign lands, even potential enemies. A moral people must cling to the hope, so long as any shred of it is left, that a reasonable approach to mutual problems may be made in good faith.

That is why we agree again and again to sit down and confer with the Soviet Union and its Communist allies and satellites, though through several years of postwar dealings we have seen virtually no evidence of sincerity.

Our attachment to the highest concepts of human behavior does not permit us to assume that bad faith is a permanent condition anywhere.

But we no longer have any optimism about meetings with the Communists. When a nation waits eight years or more for some genuine token of sincerity and does not find it, its leaders—if they are realistic—cannot look ahead cheerfully to the next conference.

Some of your foreign friends, so eager to avoid trouble that they slip easily into wishful thinking, insist on glossing over past Communist performances and investing greater hope in each new conference than the facts would seem to warrant. It was that way as they came to Geneva.

But the Communists always manage to accommodate the realists. Trapped in their own rigid pattern of thinking, they cannot take full advantage of Western differences. They cannot show even that minimum of good faith which would strengthen the lure held out to the wishful thinkers.

So it is now that we learn the Communists in Indo-China, having pledged the safe evacuation of 1,500 wounded Frenchmen from fallen Dien Bien Phu, quickly broke faith on this simple act. Only about a dozen wounded had gone out before the Viet Minh forces used an air route on the highway leading east to Hanoi to move men and materiel closer to that beleaguered city.

This duplicity has shocked the French, who have taken the loss of Dien Bien Phu and its brave garrison very hard. Perhaps they are closer to realism than they have been in a long time.

Certainly they must now appreciate the unlikelihood of a sincere agreement with the Reds on Indo-China. The British, too, can hardly fail to catch the vivid lesson.

For a while at Geneva, the Western alliance seemed at its feeblest. But as usual, the Communists, who stand to profit most from its breakup, have done the things inevitably calculated to restore the alliance to strength. Good fortune continues to shine on free men.

Rest Is Needed to Combat Infectious Mononucleosis

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

Infectious mononucleosis, or glandular fever, as it is sometimes called, is a most interesting disease. It is probably caused by a virus, and one of its characteristic features is the increase of certain cells in the blood as mononuclear cells.

The large number of these cells was formerly sometimes confused with leukemia (with which mononucleosis has no connection) and often caused a good deal of alarm.

Glandular fever seems to be somewhat more common today than it used to be. Possibly because of its usual mild nature, many people did not know they had it.

The symptoms are generally slight but moderately disabling. Vague pain and slight loss of appetite are common. Slight fever is usually present. Lack of pep and headaches are also frequent complaints.

Sometimes there is nausea and vomiting. The lymph glands in the arm pits, neck and groin and elsewhere are usually enlarged, and this is what has given the disease its other name of glandular fever.

All of these signs, of course, can be found in the presence of other disorders. In order to make sure of the diagnosis, therefore, the blood must be examined for the characteristic cells. Also, there is a special blood test called the heterophile antibody test which is fairly definite in infectious mononucleosis.

Almost always people who get this disease get along splendidly. It lasts perhaps for several weeks and like any infection leaves a person somewhat run down and weak for a while longer.

What medical men always fear, however, is that a disease of this kind may get more severe as times goes on. In fact, there have been reports of a few victims of infectious mononucleosis who developed serious complications. This, fortunately, is the exception.

It is not necessary to say much about treatment. Rest and the usual kinds of treatment for mild infections is usually all that is needed.

No Zip

WASHINGTON—Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay has finally confessed to his most embarrassing experience since coming to Washington. It happened last year, but the story hasn't been told before, so it's still newsworthy.

The secretary was due to testify before a congressional committee. Fifteen minutes before the hearing was to begin, the zipper on his trousers jammed. He dashed into a Capitol tailor shop to get it repaired, but was told the whole zipper would have to be replaced, and that would take an hour or more. So the secretary settled for a safety pin.

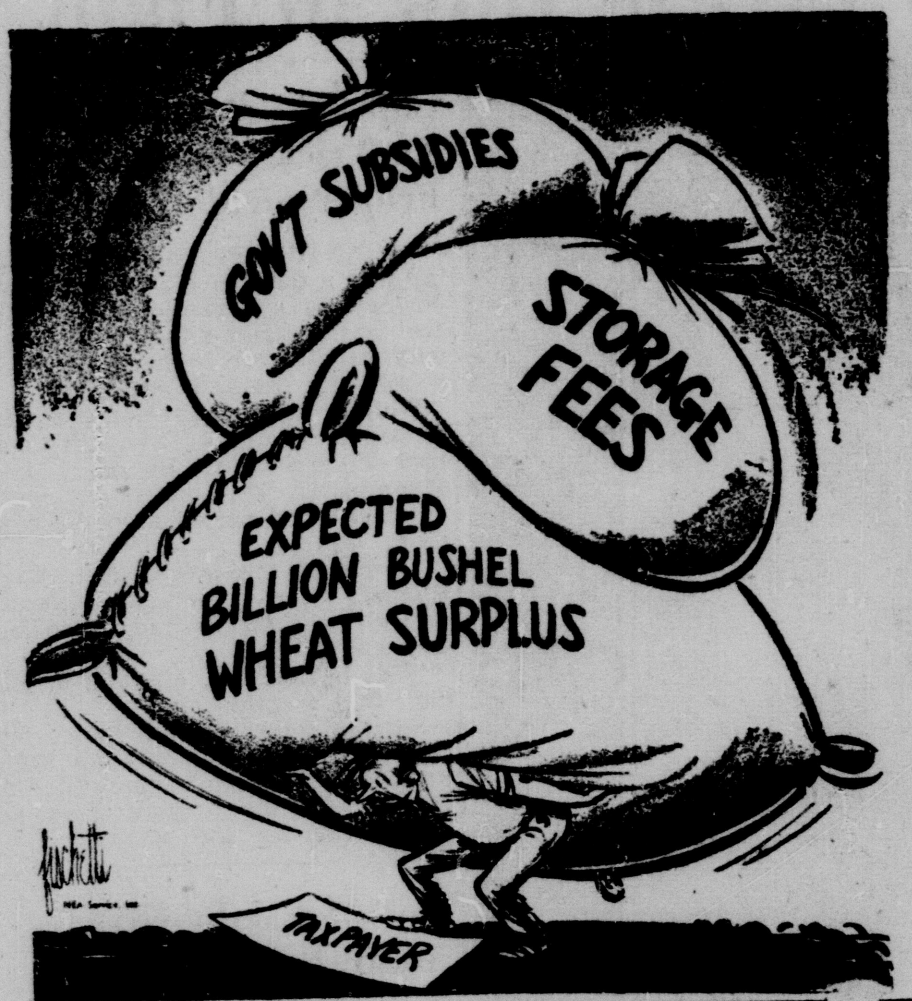

"Luckily, I had on a double-breasted suit," he says now. Once during his testimony, however, he forgot about his predicament and began waving his arms around. When he remembered, he calmed down his oratory in a hurry.

Red Belt?

"For my friends, gold. For the indifferent, whips. For my enemies, lead."

The fear is that Guatemala might move against one or another of its Central American neighbors in an effort to establish a belt of communism across the narrow stretch of land connecting North and South America.

How Long, Oh Lord, How Long?

The World Today— McCarthy Challenges Ike

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON — Who's in charge around here? Sen. McCarthy didn't ask the question. But he raised it by challenging President Eisenhower's authority to run the executive branch of the government as he thinks best.

McCarthy urged all federal employees—in spite of any Eisenhower order not to give out classified information—to turn over to him any information they might have on graft, corruption, communism or treason.

This didn't just happen suddenly. McCarthy has been leading up to this, although there's no sign he planned it step by step.

Last Sept. 9 he showed newsmen 70 pages of a 75-page "restricted" Army intelligence pamphlet on Siberia. He described it as "clear-cut, all-out Communist propaganda."

This was a case of McCarthy deciding he knew better than the Army what should be kept secret and what revealed. There are laws against revealing secret information. The Army said he had violated them. Nothing happened.

During the Senate hearings on his fight with Army officials he produced a document on spying in the Army. It was a condensed version of a much longer one which FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover had sent to the Army, marked "confidential." Some unknown person had copied parts of the original and given them to McCarthy.

McCarthy proposed to make it public. Again, McCarthy was deciding what should be released to the public.

Atty. Gen. Brownell said it should not be belged because national security was involved. McCarthy said: "No human . . . or any other directive which is designed not . . . for the security of this nation but those responsible for covering up Communists . . . will keep me from making . . . public (this) type of information."

He said an Army officer had given him the document, but refused to reveal the man's name, although it would appear the man had violated the law by giving McCarthy the document. McCarthy assured all federal employees he'd keep their names in confidence if they gave him secrets.

When Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) last week referred to this document, suggesting that McCarthy himself might be guilty of a crime in receiving it, McCarthy was nettled. He said:

"So far as I am concerned, I would like to notify those two million federal employees that I feel it is their duty to give us any information which they have about graft, corruption, communism, and that there is no loyalty to a superior officer which can tower above and beyond their loyalty to their country."

Since McCarthy excluded no one, it can be assumed he was telling the FBI agents to let him know as much as they told Hoover about the most secret investigations.

His sweeping statement can be interpreted as meaning McCarthy trusts no one in the government to protect the nation except, in the end, himself, and that the only way the country can be sure the government is being run right is if McCarthy has all the most secret information about it.

He did more than that. He was urging every government employee to decide for himself, in disobeying presidential secrecy orders, what was good for the country and to tell McCarthy. The senator said he was authorized to receive such information as chairman of a Senate committee which checks on government spending.

The White House promptly said McCarthy was trying to "usurp" the President's powers. One thing is certain: if federal employees carried out McCarthy's request in all cases, the President would have lost control. No official could trust any employee.

Government employees qualified to handle classified information are supposed to have been cleared as loyal by an FBI investigation. If McCarthy has been given an FBI check, it is not publicly known.

But McCarthy is asking for secret information. Yet he would be the first to complain if a government employee, even though he publicly proclaimed himself anti-Communist, was allowed to handle classified material without an FBI check.

Japanese Fail in Try To Top Himalaya Peak

KATMANDU, Nepal — A Japanese attempt to scale 24,299-foot Mt. Ganesh Himal in the Himalayas has failed, reports reaching here said today.

The 15-man team was reported on its way back to this capital city.

The reports said the Japanese had been forced to withdraw from their third camp and were unable to climb further. An attempt to find another route up the mountain failed.

STREET ROD

by Henry Greger Folson
Copyright 1953 by Henry Greger Folson. Printed by arrangement with the publisher, Sedalia Democrat, Inc. Reprinted by permission.

THE STORY: Ricky Madison's car came at the age of 16 in a source of worry to his parents. Not only do they fear an accident, since they know that Ricky's friends are inclined to be reckless in their own cars, but Ricky is under the influence of Merle Connor, a lousy, disreputable mechanic, who is helping Ricky build his "hot rod."

TO Merle's surprise he found himself drawn into Ricky's project with almost as much enthusiasm as Ricky himself had. He didn't try to explain it to himself. All he knew was that he stopped being bored when it was time to work on the old coupe. Stopped sitting around wondering what to do after he lost his garage. He was beginning to feel some pride in his place. Once Ricky had cleaned it up and made a place for the tools it looked pretty good.

The way Ricky jabbered about doing custom work. The kid hardly knew the wheels from the brake drums. But the idea fired Merle. Without the spirit to plan for himself, he easily hooked on to the plans Ricky made. Under Ricky's questioning, things came back to Merle that he thought he had forgotten years before. Items of knowledge about cars and motors. Tricks for improving performance, old formulas for power that he had learned drifting from shop to shop and then forgotten. To his own astonishment he began to read again. First one magazine on cars that Ricky had been carrying. Then he'd ask to read Ricky's entire collection.

Ricky drove his coupe into the garage and got out. "She runs like a top," he called to Merle.

Merle walked over slowly, a cigarette dangling from his lips. "You been able to take Link Almer yet?"

Ricky scowled. "No. But I will. You wait and see."

"I'm waiting," Merle said. "The next money I get ahead." Ricky said, "What should I put on the coupe?"

"Don't be all in a rush all the time," Merle said. As he spoke, a certain dreamy quality came into his voice. "The way you get money in little dabs, I'll tell you what I think you ought to do. Get a race-type air cleaner for the carb."

"Stack's better."

"It's dusty country, son."

"Oh . . . yeah . . . what next, Merle?"

"Then you ought to save for dual headers and pipes. You'll pick up some horsepower and performance there."

"And they got that mellow tone," Ricky sighed.

Merle snorted, but he also was thinking of the sweet deep sound they'd make. "After that we'll beef up the ignition, and then see if we can't put another carb on. Two pots will carry you fine for street use. Then we'll put on a three-quarter grind cam. That might not be according to the book, but since we've got to put on a piece at a time, that's as good a way to add on as any."

"How about stroking and boring?" Ricky asked. "And a high-speed rear end? Once we start, we might as well go all the way."

"We will, we will," Merle said petulantly. "But I don't have everything we need to work with."

"Well, the power end will be your department anyway," Ricky said. "I'm going to be the design boy. And I've got some designs in mind that are out of this world!"

"And need a Detroit setup to build, I bet," Merle scoffed.

"Maybe not," Ricky said. "We don't have to use steel. Maybe we can come up with something in plastic."

"We might at that," Merle said, grinning. "You just take that broom and think about it."

Ricky returned to his sweeping.

Congress Highlights

WASHINGTON — The House considers an administration-backed bill to add 10 million Americans to the social security rolls. Passage is expected.

The bill also would increase benefits and taxes generally.

ARMY—McCarthy — Roy M. Cohn takes the stand again, asserting he has a "great bulk" of papers that will show Pvt. G. David Schine worked for Sen. McCarthy's Senate investigations subcommittee while on Army leave.

Subcommittee Chief Counsel Cohn says some of these papers are in Schine's handwriting.

FARM FUNDS — Senate takes up bill carrying $1,046,000,000 in cash and lending authority to run Agriculture Department in coming year. No serious opposition is in sight.

He could see them now, in a modernistic office, with fancy furniture and lights. Sitting at a huge desk, looking at plans while the newspapermen took their picture. "Top Auto Designers at Work. Nation's Leading Design Team Wins International Competition for Best Car in the World." Sharon would be in the picture, too, of course. She was his secretary.

Suddenly Ricky laughed.

"What's funny?" Merle asked. Ricky looked at Merle sitting in his dirty, baggy overalls, his face dirty and stark under the harsh lights. "I was just thinking how you'd look shaved wearing a white shirt and tie, getting your picture taken. I don't see it."

"Neither do I," Merle said. "Because when we make our pile I won't have any white shirts. Just a closet full of western sports shirts, with lots of stripes and pearl buttons. I mean to look dressed up!"

Ricky leaned on the broom, still dreaming of the future, and the picture for the paper. "That will be a day," he sighed.

"That will be THE day," Merle said, really believing it. "Connor-Madison . . . that name was made for a custom car."

RICKY twined one leg around the broom. "You're sure I don't need college?"

"I told you, didn't I?"

"You'd tell me to go if you thought I needed it, wouldn't you?"

"Sure I would. You don't think I want a dumb partner, do you?"

"Connor-Madison Motors," Ricky said. "I like the way that sounds. You know, I've been thinking of a sports-car design we might try on my coupe. Suppose we do a real radical. Take her right down to the frame and build something that's got the look of life about it. There has to be sweeping feeling. Something racy, and classy, and . . . alert. . . . Like a good horse with his head up, sniffing the wind, and ready to run."

Merle Connor yawned.

Monkey Releases Her Pals at Boston Zoo, Onlookers Scatter

BOSTON — A female monkey at Franklin Park Zoo picked the lock of an adjoining cage and released two male monkeys yesterday.

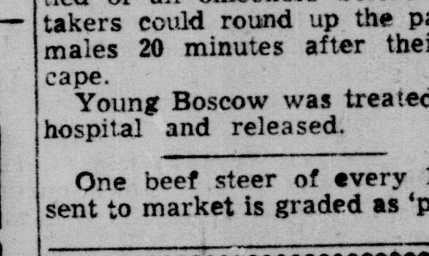

The monkeys bounded through a crowd of about 100 fleeing persons, bit John Bosco, 6, and threatened several others.

The birdhouse section was emptied of all onlookers before caretakers could round up the pair of males 20 minutes after their escape.

Young Boscow was treated at a hospital and released.

Guatemala Keeps Close Eye to Revolt

GUATEMALA — Guatemala's leftist government kept a close watch on Latin-American embassies today for fugitives from a roundup of underground opposition leaders.

Local newspapers said widespread police searches so far had uncovered nothing to support the government's charges Sunday that plans were under way for an uprising and arms had been assembled secretly.

One diplomatic source viewed this as evidence that anti-government forces had "well-organized intelligence" forces, enabling them to learn "an hour or two before the raids that they are coming, so they can escape or seek refuge."

Five leading opponents of President Jacob Arbenz's regime already have found asylum in the embassies of El Salvador and Ecuador in accordance with the Latin-American political tradition that sanctuary must be given to political fugitives.

Reliable reports said the government was maintaining a guard on these and other embassies to prevent other fugitives escaping to them.

Guatemalans have been jittery since the United States began blasting their government for receiving a large shipment of arms from Communist Poland two weeks ago.

The newspaper El Espectador said "recruiters" for Col. Carlos Castillo Armas, a leading opponent of Arbenz now living in neighboring Honduras, had been discovered near the Honduran border. Without giving any source for its report, the paper said the government had found evidence of a "vast conspiracy" to build up a rebel army.

In Tegucigalpa, capital of neighboring Honduras, a 46-year-old man identifying himself as a Guatemalan named Rafael Mendez Rodriguez summoned correspondents to a news conference yesterday and said Guatemala's present secret police chief had sent him to kill Col. Castillo.

Mendez said he told Castillo of the plot the day after he arrived in El Salvador, in March.

Plane Plummets Into Gravel Pit, Eight Are Killed

DULUTH, Minn. — A Minnesota National Guard plane, sucking low visibility in a heavy fog, plummeted into a gravel pit near the Duluth Airport last night, carrying eight troopers to their deaths and injuring six others, four critically.

"We heard the roar of the planes engines so close and loud we thought it was coming down our chimney," said Mrs. Russell Westberg, who lives about a city block away.

"Then there were a couple of terrible crashes and everything was quiet."

Lt. Col. Ralph M. Jerome, commander of the 179th Fighter-Interceptor Squadron, said the ship was returning from a practice flight to Indianapolis, where the 14 aboard had seen the annual Memorial Day speedway race.

Jerome said bodies of five men were taken from the scattered wreckage and that three more had died en route or shortly after reaching hospitals. All but one of the victims was attached to the squadron and lived in this area.

Hungary Begins Giving 'New Look' to Communistic Rule

Editor's Note—Richard O'Regan, chief of the AP bureau in Vienna, covered a conference of the Communist-led World Peace Council in Budapest last June. Now he has made another visit behind the Iron Curtain to Hungary's capital and found some major changes resulting from communism's "new look." Highlights of his findings are rounded up in the following dispatch.

By RICHARD O'REGAN
BUDAPEST, Hungary — It is rumored in Budapest that Hungary's Red rulers are planning to take up golf—hitherto regarded by communism as a decadent capitalist sport.

The rumor may be untrue, but it illustrates one thing:

The "new look" in communism is bringing considerable benefits to the working class. But it is bringing far more to communism's upper and middle classes, the group which has benefited all along. This segment of Red society is demanding still more privileges—and it is getting them.

Hungary was the first Iron Curtain country to announce the "new look," a modification of the communist drive for ever higher industrial and farm production to permit an increase in the output of consumer goods and restore some niceties of life.

The Red bosses seem content with the progress. They have announced it will continue.

But Hungary is still shipping huge quantities of her production to Russia and other Soviet nations. Thus her living standards, although higher than a year ago, remain lower than before World War II and lower than those of West Europe.

You can buy champagne glasses here today. On fashionable Vaci Utc, there's fishing equipment for the Communist man of leisure. All over Budapest there are night clubs and restaurants run by the state. But the prices are out of this world for the average well-paid white-collar worker.

Patrons are the Communist doctors, engineers, architects, artists, writers, musicians, high party members and government chiefs who have all the big money in Hungary. Many are young.

If you have jingling money, you can now build your own house. A state enterprise will do it for you.

Or you can buy a second-hand automobile. Not a good one, because they are reserved for the select few at the top.

Several members of Hungary's soccer team, for instance, are now car and house owners. So are half the members of the opera.

These men draw salaries of anywhere from 4,000 to 20,000 forints a month ($363 to $1,800 at the legal rate).

Former arch-reactionaries are among the new upper classes. One is Jozsef Vargha, now a Budapest University professor and prize-winning oil expert. He was formerly minister of industry under the regime of pro-Nazi Adm. Nicholas Horthy.

Women of the Communist upper class benefit too. The party says—it is now permitted to be pretty, to wear lipstick, to don high heels, to wear a girdle.

Most Budapest women remain drably dressed and untidy. But I counted a dozen well groomed.

A dress in Budapest's high-fashion store may cost 900 forints, a month's pay to the best of secretaries. Even at the Nagyaruhaz department store, a rayonlike summer frock bears a price tag of 350 forints. And a bottle of eau de cologne costs 45 forints, or about 10 hours work.

A man's raincoat or a half decent suit costs three weeks pay. The tab for a meal for two at a good restaurant runs to 50 or 60 forints, considerably more than an average day's pay.

There is more to eat on the market than a year ago. The Red regime is even importing beef from France and land from the United States (by the way of the Netherlands). But bread remains the staple of the average family because of the high cost of other foods.

Working it out on paper, Western diplomats say Hungarian living standards have gone up 15 to 20 per cent. But they are still far away from rivaling those of West Europe.

In Budapest, every other movie today is from the West, though no Hollywood products are shown. The imports are British, French, Italian, Mexican. Tickets are sold out weeks in advance.

Western music is played everywhere, and here there is no bar on America. "Moulin Rouge" and "Oh, My Papa" are the new hits. George Gershwin and Jerome Kern are steady favorites.

People have more time for home, children and amusement. The old sweat-shop practice of "voluntary overtime" — without pay — is almost a thing of the past.

Newspapers are more readable. Crime news is reported again. There is more Western news — without political comment.

There is no more worshipping of Stalin, or of Matyas Rakosi, Hungary's bald Communist boss. There are fewer Red flags, and fewer secret police, spies and informers.

For the moment, all this has strengthened the Red regime. What Western diplomats hope is that, having loosened the screws, communism will have to let go even more. This ultimately may turn to the West's advantage, instead of Russia's.

But Hungarians, for all the improvements, have not regained

Mac-Army Digest...

WASHINGTON — Here is a brief rundown on the Senate Investigations subcommittee's inquiry into the dispute between Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and top Army officials.

The original charges—Secretary of the Army Stevens and Army Counselor John G. Adams accused McCarthy and two subcommittee aides, Roy M. Cohn and Francis P. Carr, of using improper pressures to win favored Army treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine, a subcommittee aide who was drafted.

McCarthy and his associates in turn accused Stevens and Adams of attempting to use Schine as a "hostage" in efforts to induce McCarthy to halt or divert an investigation of alleged subversives in the Army, particularly at Ft. Monmouth, N.J. They also accused Asst. Secretary of Defense H.

Struve Hensel of seeking to discredit the subcommittee. The subcommittee voted 4-3 on May 26 to dismiss Carr and Hensel as principals.

Pertinent past testimony — Stevens denied trying to halt McCarthy's probe, but testified he did object to methods he said gave a distorted picture. He said McCarthy's aides subjected him to threats of an "exceedingly serious" nature in seeking Army favors for Schine.

Adams testified Cohn threatened that if Schine were sent overseas, Stevens would be "through as secretary" and the Army wrecked. Adams said "The pressure (from Cohn) became extremely hard to bear."

Cohn said Stevens and Adams repeatedly sought to stop the Ft. Monmouth investigation. He said Adams referred to Schine as "the hostage" more often than he used Schine's name, and that Adams once said he would "stop at nothing" to block a subcommittee move to question members of the Army's top loyalty board. Cohn denied Army testimony that he had once "declared war" on the Army when barred from a secret radar laboratory at Ft. Monmouth.

Yesterday's Baseball— Boston Must Move Quickly To Be In Race

The next 30 days should decide the fate of Boston in the 1954 American League race. Will the Red Sox bloom in June or are they doomed to second division?

After a horrible spring of injuries and bad weather forced Lou Boudreau to go with a make-do lineup that didn't, the new month finds the Red Sox settling in for an 18-game home stand in friendly Fenway Park.

Their own three-game winning streak for the first time this season. They've gotten routine-giving performances from their pitchers in two of their last three contests. And Ted Williams is due to start busting out all over after being back in action for two weeks.

If the Red Sox can't move now, they aren't much hope they will after the midway point since the first division teams already have a good jump. Boston is 1½ games out of first place.

Boston was the only club in either league to sweep a Memorial Day double-header yesterday. They buried Philadelphia 20-10 in the highest scoring display of the league season, then mopped up 9-0 in the nightcap.

The Cleveland Indians stayed a game ahead of the Chicago White Sox in first place by whipping the White Sox 6-3 on Jim Hegan's eighth-inning home run after losing 6-4 as Bob Keegan posted his seventh victory in eight decisions.

Washington's senators, who caused the New York Yankees more trouble than an investigating committee, beat the world champions 1-0 on Johnny Schmitz' three-hitter. Then they pushed the second game into extra innings before bowing 7-6 in 10. Spec Shea forced home the winning run by a bases-loaded walk.

Detroit rallied in the ninth for a 7-5 victory at Baltimore, then lost 4-2 to the Orioles.

In the National League, rain washed out Cincinnati's double-header with the first-place Milwaukee Braves and cut the Chicago St. Louis twin bill to a single seven inning contest won by the Cubs 14-4 on six home runs, two by Hank Sauer.

Brooklyn beat Philadelphia 5-4 on Gil Hodges' 12th-inning home run in a single game. Pittsburgh split with the New York Giants, winning 4-3 after losing on three hits to Ruben Gomez 4-0.

The only significant shift in the standings came in the American League. Boston moved from seventh to sixth and Baltimore from eighth to seventh as Philadelphia dropped to last.

The Red Sox' big day included 27 hits, five of them home runs. Milt Bolling hit two. Williams, Jim Piersall and Harry Agganis got one each.

Bill Henry scattered seven hits in the second-game shutout, his third complete game of the year.

A bunt, an error, an infield out and Mickey Vernon's single produced the one run Washington needed to beat New York in the opener. Casey Stengel argued the bunt hit batter Eddie Yost's cap and got tossed out of the game for his vigorous protests.

Baltimore outbit Detroit 14-9 in the first game but left 15 runners stranded. Three runs in the ninth gave the Tigers the decision. In the nightcap Vern Stephens' homer and triples by Jim Fridley and Sam Mele helped counteract 11 strikeouts by the Tigers' Billy Hoef.

The White Sox ended Cleveland's 14-game home winning streak in the curtain raiser with the help of two-run homers by Minnie Minoso and Ferris Fain. Hegan's home run broke a 3-3 tie in the second game and the Indians added two more in the same inning.

Ahead 3-1, the Dodgers suddenly found themselves trailing by one run in the eighth at Philadelphia when Smokey Burgess smashed a pinch-hit home run with two aboard. Brooklyn tied it in the ninth after George Shuba doubled.

The Phils threatened in the 12th after Hodges had given Brooklyn the lead, putting two aboard after two out. But Duke Snider raced up the center field wall and hauled down Willie Jones' tremendous drive for the final out.

Mays of the Giants continued his hitting spree with his 14th home run in the first game at Pittsburgh. The lowly Pirates hopped on Hoyt Wilhelm for four singles in the ninth inning of the second game for the two runs they needed to gain the split.

Avila's Hitting Is Big Factor For Cleveland

NEW YORK (AP)—The steady hitting of Bobby Avila has been one of the prime factors in the success of the first place Cleveland Indians this season. The Mexican second baseman's sizzling stick-work gives him the top spot in the American League batting race today with a .388 average, 27 points ahead of teammate Al Rosen.

Five seasons with the Tribe, Avila has compiled a 297 lifetime batting mark, but now he seems headed for his best campaign. Avila, who will celebrate his 28th birthday June 7, boosted his average six points last week. He collected 12 hits in 29 trips, including five doubles and a homer.

Runnerup Rosen is batting .361 and is the league leader in both home runs with 13 and RBI's with 49. Rookie Bill Tuttle of the Tigers ranks third at .343. Figures include Monday's games.

The National League hitting race is nip and tuck with Stan Musial of the Cardinals holding a one-point edge over teammate Ray Jablonski. Musial, seeking his seventh batting title, gained 15 points and is swinging at a .374 clip. Jablonski, last week's pace-setter, has a .373 mark and Don Muller of the Giants is third at .365.

Musial has the most runs batted in, 52, while Hank Sauer of the Cubs heads the home run department with 16.

Vukovich's Pit Crew Aids His '500' Win

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Without taking any credit for a great driver in Bill Vukovich's second straight 500-mile auto race victory yesterday, the cold statistics show that his pit crew deserves a big chunk of cash when the purse is distributed tonight.

Jack McGrath, who holds the Indianapolis Motor Speedway qualifying record, set out to run off around the track at an almost impossible 140 miles an hour early in the contest.

Vukovich won and McGrath finished in third place behind hard-driving Jimmy Bryan of Phoenix. Vukovich was 1:09.59 ahead of Bryan and 1:57 ahead of McGrath.

Vukovich had made two pit stops for fuel and tires and his crew got him back on the track with a total loss of 1:42. Bryan had to make three stops and lost 2:04. McGrath stopped three times and lost 3:39, including once when his engine stalled.

Fresno friends of the short, dark and untalkative Vukovich probably will contend, with considerable reason, that if Vukovich hadn't held a full lap lead over Bryan late in the race, he would have been pushing his fuel injector special even faster than his new record of 130.840 m.p.h. He certainly wasn't loafing after starting in 19th place.

McGrath, from South Pasadena, Calif., had a phenomenal average speed of 139.860 for the first 50 miles and Bryan was hardly a car length behind him at that point.

McGrath reported later he was forced to abandon the torrid pace because of magneto trouble. He said he was faced with the choice of spending time in the pit with the part was changed or giving up the all-out speed.

Vukovich got ahead of Bryan during one of the latter's pit stops and stayed in front till the end. Jimmy Daywalt, later involved in a spectacular accident, led 8 laps; McGrath, 53; Bryan, 45; Sam Hanks, Burbank, Calif., 1; and Art Cross, La Porte, Ind., runner-up to Vukovich last year.

Daywalt hit the northwest wall, 11 laps past the midway point of the race, and bounced off to Jim Rathmann's car, in which Pat Flaherty of Glendale, Calif., was driving relief. Neither driver was hurt but the yellow "slow down" light was on 12 minutes.

Other accidents slowed the race a total of 21 minutes and 9 seconds. Daywalt failed to prevent the first three finishers from breaking Troy Ruttman's 1952 record speed of 128.922 m.p.h. No one was hurt.

Play Blind Bogey
Tourney on Monday
Instead of Sunday

The rains came and went, and the Elm Hills Countryview Club held its Memorial Day blind bogey tournament on Monday instead of Sunday resulting in some astonishing scoring. More than 40 golfers participated in the tournament.

Sunday the play was cancelled due to the electrical and rain storm, then started off early Monday to be played.

Jackson Wilt was a two prize winner, having the low score for the 18 holes with a 74, and winning the low score for the double play on holes No. 3 and 4 with a total of 16.

Garrett Munday was the high score winner with 118 for the 18 holes and the highest on the double playing of holes No. 8 and 9 with 16.

Tom Williams, won the most 5's; Capt. H. E. Willoughby, the longest drive; and Fred Wertz, the closest to the pin on No. 7 in one drive.

George Thomasetti announced next Sunday "weather permitting" there will be a one-club tournament.

Ted Maloney was the judge of the Monday tournament and Bob Harvey was the score keeper.

Monday's Fights
New York — Lulu Perez, 127, Brooklyn, outpointed Mickey Mars 127, 10.

Brooklyn — Jackie Labia, 160½, East Meadows, N. Y., outpointed Jacques Royer, 163, France, 10.

New Orleans — Joe Dorsey, 162, New Orleans, stopped Stanley Jones, 157½, Houston, Tex., 5.

Speed Point
Fight Between
Fry-Chenault

Four youngsters are battling for the point lead in the midwest auto racing division of Consolidated Racing Association. Heading the list after his flashing victory in last Sunday night's program of the thunderbugs at Sportsman's Speedway, Marshall, is 25-year-old Danny Fry, Springfield, Mo., pilot of the Thomas No. 9 Offy. Fry, with two firsts and two seconds in four starts, holds a slim lead over Kansas City's Bill Chenault, Chenault, at 22 one of the youngest pilots of the hot jobs, also has two firsts, but only one second, and a sixth spot finish to his credit. Marshall fans were amazed by Chenault's whirlwind driving to gain two laps on Fry, after spinning out in last Sunday's feature.

Third and fourth spots are held by a youthful Bob Heilman and Willie Hunziker. Hunziker is a 25-year-old veteran of the midwest campaigns. Both pilots regularly drive Ford-powered cars, normally considered slower than the Offenhauser variety.

Marshall's next race at Sportsman's Speedway will be on the night of Sunday, June 6th. This meet is preceded by two others in fairly close driving range on immediately preceding nights. Consolidated officials feel that a considerably larger field will appear at the Saline County oval as a result of this circumstance.

The standings:
1. Danny Fry, Springfield, Mo. 58
2. Bill Chenault, K. C. 35½
3. Bob Heilman, K. C. 35
4. Willie Hunziker, K. C. 25½

Musial Called One of Greatest, Least Colorful

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP)—Unquestionably the greatest but least colorful all-around player in baseball is Stanley Frank Musial of Donora, Pa., and the St. Louis Cardinals.

This extraordinary hitter, superb outfielder, speedy base-runner and remarkable team player has, in a dozen seasons, established himself as one of the all-time greats of the diamond.

Musial hasn't any of the color that marks a Ted Williams, a Babe Ruth, a Leo Durocher or a Rogers Hornsby. His color is only his crisp, machine-like rocket hitting, his efficient fielding, his keen judgment on the basepaths, his determined slides.

Now in his 34th year, with six most valuable player awards behind him, "Stash," as he is known to his friends and teammates, gives promise of enjoying what may be his greatest of all seasons.

Certainly Musial is off to the finest start of his career with the possible exception of 1948 when he led the league in every offensive department except home runs and reached his batting high water mark of .376. Through the first six weeks of 1954, Stan compiled a .370 batting average and was out front in home runs, runs batted in and total bases.

Stan's tremendous feat of smacking five home runs in a doubleheader against the Giants on May 2 gave him a record not even achieved by such sluggers as Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig and Jimmy Ficks. It was after this performance that first baseman Tom Alston, rookie teammate of Stan's, remarked wistfully:

"Every time I see him hit I'm ashamed to take a bat to the plate."

Alvin Dark, star shortstop and captain of the Giants, a pretty fair hitter in his own right, calls Musial the greatest hitter he ever saw.

"Musial is a man apart," he said. "He's in one sphere, the rest of us are in another. While we're striving like the dickens to reach .350, his main concern is whether he'll top .350 or not."

Musial, an $85,000-a-year performer, is without pretense or illusions of grandeur. He would rather talk about his family and restaurant business than his feats with a bat.

Musial already is a couple of hundred hits past the 2,000 hit mark, has scored over 1,300 runs and has driven in nearly 1,200. He has the most singles, doubles, triples, runs and total bases of any active player. He is crowding the 300 homer mark. In the field, he is equally adept at first base as in left, center or right field.

Minner for a While

CHICAGO (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals are mighty glad they won't have to face Paul Minner for a while.

The crafty southpaw has whipped them three times in as many starts this season and also has helped himself with the bat. Minner has struck both of his home runs off Redbird pitching, including one yesterday which helped the Bruins to a 14-4 victory.

Cardinal Hurlers Know the Secret Of Gopher Balls

CHICAGO (AP)—St. Louis Cardinal pitchers must have found the secret of the gopher ball—they've served up 55 so far this season.

The slugging Chicago Cubs, in a rain-shortened game yesterday, found the range for six of those home runs—just two short of matching a major league record set by the New York Yankees in a single game in 1939. The final score was 14-4.

But the Cubs only played seven innings when the rains came. The second game of the scheduled doubleheader was washed out.

Hank Sauer collected two homers, bringing his total to 16. Ernie Banks, pitcher Paul Minner, Bill Serena and Randy Jackson also banged out home runs for the Cubs.

It brought the Cubs' total to 61 in 42 games. Rookie Bill Gleason, 27-year-old right-hander brought up from Columbus to help the Cardinal pitching staff, got off on the right foot as far as homers go by serving up three in his major league debut. Reliever Cot Deal was nicked for the other three.

The Cardinals, in their 44 games have collected 46 homers off opposing pitchers.

Southpaw Minner bagged his fifth win against two defeats as he gave up eight hits, including a two-run home run by Ray Jablonski in the third.

The Cubs packed three of their homers and a double into a seven-run fourth inning.

Farm Business Trend Mixed; Ag Prices Up

Business has more zip than it had a month ago but the trend is mixed, reports Frank Miller, University of Missouri agricultural economist. In general it is sideways rather than upward, revival in some lines is offset by declines in others.

Increased demand for automobiles has stopped price declines and stimulated activity along assembly lines. The used car market is active.

Construction is booming. Building contracts in March reached a new record high. The demand for steel has picked up moderately, says Miller, and the increase in rush orders indicates industry inventories have been reduced.

Employment at 60 million was up slightly in March. However, weekly earnings declined for the third straight month and averaged $1.40 billion, slightly below a month ago and two per cent above the corresponding 1953 level.

On the farm side, agricultural prices increased one-half per cent from mid-March to mid-April. Increases came from higher hog, cattle, potato, cotton, and soybean prices. More than offset declines in milk, egg, and vegetable prices.

In meat animals, farmers were receiving nearly $2 more per hundred for hogs at mid-April than a month earlier. They were getting 90 cents more for lambs, and 50 cents more for beef cattle. On the other hand, sheep prices were down 46 cents for the month.

Dairy prices were the lowest for the month since 1950. Egg prices declined another 3 1/2 cents per dozen during the month.

Small Grain Silage Is Good

One of the very best ways of securing extra forage this year is through small grain silage. Ross Fleetwood, University of Missouri extension field crops specialist, points out that all small grains grown in Missouri can be used for silage. Wheat, barley, and oats are excellent, while rye makes fair grass silage. Cut the small grains when in the soft dough stage. They can be put in the silo immediately, with or without preservatives. Fleetwood says preservatives may increase the palatability of the silage but that most small grain silage keeps well without the use of preservatives. Pack the silage well to prevent spoilage.

Blast Damages Large Ditching Machine

KEARNEY, Mo., (P) — An explosion damaged a large ditching machine here early today. The owner said the blast was deliberate.

The Highway Patrol quoted Gene Emmett of Emmett and McColl Construction Co., as saying a charge of either dynamite or TNT had been placed under the cab of the machine. Damage was estimated at $10,000.

The construction company, headquartered at Pleasant Hill, Mo., is building a waterworks here.

Balanced Farming Notes

In Pettis County

By MERLE VAUGHAN
County Agent

By Merle Vaughan Pettis County Agent

Several weeks ago I wrote to the business houses selling insecticides in Sedalia suggesting that they make a display of the "3-way garden spray" recommendations made by Clyde Cunningham at the garden meeting this spring.

I was in one of those places of business last Saturday inquiring about their supply of toxaphene and mentioned that the cutworms were causing the local gardeners some trouble. The proprietor reported that someone had been in the store just recently who had had excellent results with the "3-way" spray. He looked up the man and said it was Clarence Bybee.

We located Clarence on a Smith-ton telephone and asked him about it. Clarence said yes, they had had no trouble since they started using the spray. I asked, "What about before that?" He indicated that earlier they had a lot of trouble with plants being eaten and cut off.

Short Cuts In Summer Housekeeping

Most homemakers are interested in ways and means to reduce both the amount of cleaning in their homes and the effort necessary to do it during the hot summer months.

You can select equipment and supplies that will allow easy and efficient cleaning of the furniture and dishes in your home. Some understanding of the characteristics of these finishes and the effects of various treatments on their wearing qualities usually makes cleaning more interesting as well as more effective.

While an annual spring and fall household cleaning may have advantages, too often it leaves you physically exhausted. By distributing special cleaning processes over a period of time you can eliminate these annual upheavals. For instance, you may choose to include some special cleaning with the regular weekly cleaning. You may wash the windows in one or two rooms one week and brush down the walls or laundry curtains the next week. Or you may choose to concentrate on one cleaning operation by brushing down walls in several rooms one week and the next rooms one week and woodwork. Or you may prefer to clean one room thoroughly each month.

Along with this comes ways of preventing excessive fatigue. Learn correct methods of lifting. Squat rather than bend when picking up articles or dusting the baseboard. Maintain good posture, wear comfortable work garments, and have room well ventilated. Observe frequent rest periods and alternate easy and hard tasks.

Home homemakers decrease the amount of day-to-day cleaning by removing brick-a-brahs putting away seldom used equipment and furniture, removing draperies and window curtains and closing off unused rooms for the summer. The object of planning is to reduce the time as well as fatigue in the every day tasks of house-making.

Go Easy on Bleach

Occasionally it is necessary to use a bleach—but it should be handled with care. Follow the directions to the letter that are given on the bottle. Most bleaches are for use on white cottons, linens and nylons. Never on silk or rayons. After you use a bleach, rinse the clothes well. Even a little bleach left in the fabric will weaken and shorten its life. Usually it is best to use bleach in with the suds and then bleach in with the suds and then use two rinses. Hot water steps up the action of the bleach so clothes should not be left in hot suds too long. If the clothes still have a strong odor of bleach after rinsing twice, better give them yet another rinse. It pays to play safe.

An electronic stethoscope has been created to speed the close-tolerance finishing of metal. The operator holds a small microphone on the metal being worked and listens through earphones to the amplified sounds of the metal being scraped away. Loudness of the sound is proportionate to the amount of metal being removed.

Former Pettis County Agent Receives Honor

Three Missouri agricultural extension service workers were honored recently in a ceremony held on the Washington Monument Grounds in Washington, D. C. They received the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Superior Service Award.

The three are Parker Rodgers, Lafayette County extension agent, Higginsville; Miss Helen Morse, Cass County home agent, Harrisonville; and E. S. Matteson, extension livestock specialist, Columbia.

Rodgers was cited for outstanding success in directing a program of Balanced Farming thereby greatly increasing the farm income, making for a better family living and providing greater security on the land. He was born at Bellflower, Missouri, and graduated from the University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Agriculture in 1927.

Rodgers has been county agent of Lafayette County since 1947. He previously served as agent in Carter, Reynolds, Morgan, and Pettis Counties, and as a state extension agent. He was agent in Pettis County from January 15, 1935 to June 15, 1935 leaving here to serve as State Agent for South Central Missouri. He left that position to return to county agent work in Lafayette County in 1947 when Roy Coplen who had been in that county for 17 years, came to Pettis.

Serve Salads Every Day

Salads make delightful ways to serve those green yellow vegetables and luscious fruits which should appear on the daily menus of every family. For they are good sources of vitamins and minerals so necessary to health.

Serving a fresh fruit or vegetable salad is a good way to introduce variety, color, flavor and texture into the meal. You can serve the salad on individual plates, in a large salad bowl, a large chop plate or in individual salad bowls.

The ideal salad is served on a cold plate; the salad green is clean and crisp; the salad mixture is lightly tossed together with a small amount of dressing and topped with a suitable garnish.

Supper salads may be light or heavy depending on what foods are served. Often a meat, fish, poultry, cheese, egg, or bean salad is used for the main dish for supper.

A vegetable or fruit salad served with a cream soup or a hearty sandwich makes a good lunch or light supper.

Here are a few suggestions for preparing salads. Foods used in salad making should be cold, crisp, and clean. Wash salad greens thoroughly and make them crisp by putting them in the refrigerator or other cool place in a clean damp towel or refrigerator pan. Do not let them stand in water more than 5 to 10 minutes.

Cutting out the core of a head of lettuce and allowing a stream of cold water to run through the cavity help separate leaves and makes them crisp and clean.

Vegetables and fruits are best if chilled thoroughly before mixing, then mixed with dressing just before serving. Mix all salads lightly to prevent mashing, and have the pieces cut in suitable sizes.

Hog Production Up
Hog production will probably continue to climb the next twelve months. Marketing specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture look for an increase of around 10 percent or more pigs next fall over last fall. They think further increases probable next spring.

If those increases are moderate farmers may still manage to get average returns for hogs next year. The actual size of those increases will largely depend on the size of the '54 corn crop. An average or smaller corn crop would probably cause considerable expansion in hog production, with resulting sharp declines in hog prices.

Beef Production May Level Off This Year

Marketing specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture are predicting that beef production will level off this year with cattle slaughter the next six months about equaling last year's. They point out that cattle numbers last January were up only a million head above a year earlier and none of the increase was in slaughter cattle of near market weight.

Methodist Youths Have Hayride-Wiener Roast

The Methodist Youth Fellowship of the Epworth Church enjoyed a hayride and wiener roast Thursday night at Clark's Cabin, south of Smithton. Some 23 young people attended the affair.

Vincent Siegel is sponsor of the groups which meets each Sunday night at 7 o'clock in the church basement. After the group's meetings, all attend the evening church service.

Plan Kitchen Carefully

In most farm homes, the kitchen is the most lived-in room of the house and families that are thinking of building or remodeling will want to keep in mind the importance of this room which is often the center of family activities, says Opal O'Brian, Pettis County Home Agent. This kitchen is used for preparing meals and preserving food; for eating, ironing, washing, sewing, keeping records, studying, listening to the radio, and resting. The larger the kitchen, the more time the family spends in there. And if the house has no dining room, the kitchen needs even more careful planning to take care of family needs.

Those who plan to build or remodel will find many helpful suggestions in extension circular 602 "The Labor Saving Kitchen." Among the illustrations in this circular are floor plans for 3 different types of kitchen. They are the U shape kitchen, the L shape kitchen, the broken U and the half wall or island kitchen, arrangement. You may obtain a copy of this publication at your county extension office or by writing to Mailing Room, Mumfords Hall, Columbia, Mo. Ask for circular 602, "The Labor Saving Kitchen."

Not Recommending
Bait for Army Worms
By Merle Vaughan

I called Stirling Kyd, Extension Entomologist, at the University of Missouri to inquire whether poison baits were recommended for the army worm as well as the cutworms. Mr. Kyd was inclined to discourage the bait because he said it would need to be spread every day while a spraying of toxaphene would last for several days. In corn the lighter application of 1 1/2 pounds (1 quart of 85 per cent toxaphene) can be used.

Ironing Technique

If you do a lot of ironing, you've probably discovered that your garments look better if you iron the various sections of a dress, blouse or skirt in a certain order. The main purpose, of course, is to avoid wrinkling one section while ironing another, says Opal O'Brian, Pettis County Home Agent. If you haven't developed a good system, try the following: this procedure applies to a dress, blouse or man's shirt. Iron the sleeves first; then the blouse part; and then the skirt. Iron the hem up and down with the length of the skirt. Never iron hems around the width of the skirt. Last, iron the collar and any trimmings.

Plans for Roll-A-Way Hen Nests Available

Plans for a homemade roll-away community nest designed for 50 layers is now available from your county extension agent.

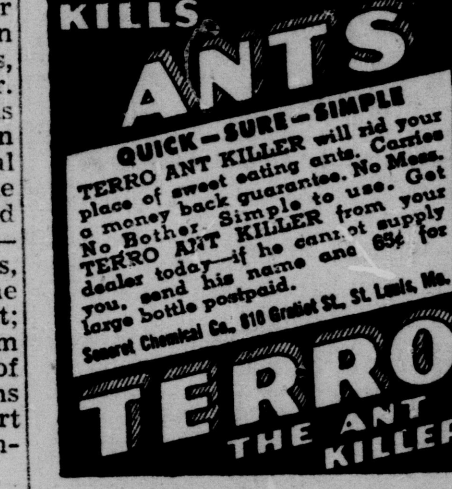

The plan contains many features of commercial roll-away nests now on the market. Some of the advantages claimed for this type nest are less egg breakage, ease of gathering eggs, production of cleaner eggs, and faster egg cooling.

Some possible disadvantages... say University of Missouri poultry specialists... are more egg breakage with checks or thin shelled eggs, more trouble in getting birds to use the nests, and dark marks on eggs during wet weather.

Recession Talk Replaced By Inflation

NEW YORK (AP)—In June the thoughts of businessmen are turning to the chances of a revival of inflation.

The critical months—March, April and May—have gone to businessmen's liking, because the decline slackened instead of picking up momentum as some previously feared it might.

Today, just a few weeks away from the summer siesta, businessmen's talk about a waning recession's being replaced by a new spurt of inflation is based on these possibilities:

1. War, a threat of war, or just more military aid to our allies, might start war-boom psychology among the buying public, they argue. Some think that might mean scare buying, such as sparked inflation early in the Korean conflict.

2. Government stockpiling plans for nonferrous metals has already firmed prices, as intended. Threat of a steel strike—now being played down—might send manufacturers scurrying to order steel. Stepped-up activity in the metals industries, even if artificially induced, might spread to other parts of the economy.

3. Easy money—a government policy for several months now—and assurance of more strenuous measures if needed to halt deflation, convince many businessmen that inflation might find fertile ground in which to germinate.

The administration, however, has made clear its stand on that: it wants neither inflation nor deflation but balance.

Still, it's no secret that inflation, in moderation, is more attractive to most people than deflation. That often proves true at the polls. And balance is hard to get, and not very exciting.

June starts quietly enough. Compared to last June there are many minus factors. Retail trade is down, partly because of poor weather. Industrial output is off, with durable goods the weakest. Business loans lag, despite easy credit. People are buying less on time. Total wage and salary payments for the nation are a little lower, although higher jobless benefit payments and lower personal and excise taxes help sustain purchasing power.

There are strong factors too. Building goes booming along. Corporate earnings hold up, even in the face of lower sales. Dividend payments top last year. Business expansion programs reflect long-term confidence.

Inflation talk falls on deaf ears in many quarters, where it is pointed out that even if a small war should break out in the Far East it wouldn't carry the price or shortage punch that Korea had.

That outbreak in 1950 came when recovery from the 1949 inventory recession was already taking on the look of a fresh boom. This time, moreover, the nation's productive machinery for both war or peace is much higher.

About 10 per cent of its industrial capacity is unused now. Since production is down by that much from last year's peak, there's slack to be taken before new military demands would pinch the capabilities of mills and factories, and send prices kiting.

The immediate question for businessmen, however, is the sales trend that will be set before the Fourth of July, particularly in such seasonal lines as autos.

Some hope that the slackened decline of recent weeks will become an upturn before the July vacation period starts. Others see it as more likely to come at the end of August and early in September.

Most expect the vacation period this year to top last summer in

Jon Hall Makes More Money Loafing Now Than by Working

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—How would you like to earn more money by loafing than working?

That enviable position is enjoyed by Jon Hall, the star of the amazingly popular TV series "Ramar of the Jungle."

"During the past five months, I haven't worked a bit," he tells us. "Yet I've made more money than I could have by working steadily for two years in the movies."

This happy prosperity is afforded by the economics of syndicated TV films. A star can work like a demon for a period, then relax and allow the films to go out and bring in the loot. In the case of "Ramar" the system has been successful beyond the backers' fondest dreams. The jungle show is on 120 stations in the United States. In many places, it draws bigger audience ratings than the top network shows.

Hall has earned his leisure. Since the handsome gent drew his first attention in "The Hurricane" in 1937, he has been working al-numbers on the go and in total spending. Here's hoping you have fun.

Gives Novel Twist To Old Predicament

BALTIMORE (AP)—Arnold White, one of five children lost within a hectic 90-minute period in Druid Hill Park yesterday, told a police matron his mother once had five children but only had four now.

"Why?" the matron asked.

"Because I'm gone," the 5-year-old said.

Los Angeles. When he returned to the States, kids at the airport shouted, "Hey, there's Ramar!"

"When I heard that, I knew we were in," he said.

The show began selling all over the country. Hall went to work turning out a total of 52 chapters at a cost of a million dollars. By now it was a safe investment. The outlay of a million was already covered by the returns before the 52 films were finished. Now the receipts are pure gravy.

This fall Ramar has to go back to work and make another 39 films. Hall doesn't mind a bit. It's not only because he is thinking of the money he's making (the figure: the present series will be money makers for another 15 to 20 years). He also likes the action pictures.

Man Becomes Eligible To Be the Beneficiary Of His Own Policy

SPRING HOUSE, Pa. (AP)—Fritz J. Hartman, who still lists his name as "Junior," became eligible today to collect $1,189 as the beneficiary of his own life insurance policy.

He bought the policy in 1901 and stopped paying premiums in 1921. Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York announced it had offered Hartman the privilege of cashing in the policy on the anniversary date nearest his 96th birthday anniversary, which will be next Oct. The company said only three persons out of every thousand can hope to reach 96.

Man, 59, Stops in Iowa During Hike Across US

DES MOINES (AP)—John F. Frey, toughened by hikes in his mountainous native Switzerland, likes to walk.

He likes it so well he is walking "every inch of the way" from New York to San Francisco, roughly 3,030 highway miles.

"This is something I've wanted to do for years," said the 59-year-old professional lecturer. "When I was a little boy I always read about the United States and marveled at the size of the country. The idea came to me that I'd like to walk across it."

He took to the open road April 1 and had completed 1,258 miles of the journey when he stopped here last night. He averages 21 miles a day. By mid-November, he hopes to reach San Francisco.
